GENERATION I.

THOMAS KILBORNE,

THE common ancestor of all the KILBORNES* on the Western Continent, was born in the parish of Wood Ditton, in the county of Cambridge, England, A. D. 1578, where he was baptized on the 8th of May of that year. The next mention I have found of him, is contained in the will of Agatha Borrowdale, (already referred to,) who, in 1613, bequeathed to him and others, certain property in trust for benevolent purposes; for the care of which he was to receive, at the end of every seven years, "a ring of gold of the price of 30*s*." &c. Unlike most of the pioneers of New England, he was a member of the Church of England, as appears from the fact that he was a "Church Warden" of his native parish in 1632. He married Frances ——, and had eight children, viz., Margaret, Thomas, Elizabeth, George, Mary, Lydia, Frances and John. On the 15th of April, 1635, Thomas Kilborne, with a portion of his family, embarked from London for New England, in the ship "Increase," Robert Lea, master, as appears by the following paragraphs from the Hon. James Savage's "Gleanings for New England History," in the Collections of the Massachusetts Historical Society, 3d series, Vol. VIII, p. 243, viz.:

"Extract from a MS. volume in folio at the Augmentation Office (so called,) where Rev. Joseph Hunter, one of the Record Commissioners, presides in Rolls Court, Westminster Hall. It contains the names of all persons permitted to embark at the port of London, after Christmas, 1634, to the same period in the following year, kept generally in regular succession. This was found only a few months since, and may not have been seen by more than two or three persons for two hundred years."

"15th Apr. 1635. These parties hereafter expressed are to be transported to New England, embarqued in the Increase, Robert Lea, master, having taken the oath of allegiance and supremacy, as also being conformable to the orders and discipline of the church, whereof they brought testimony per certificates from the Justices and Ministers where their abodes have lately been.

Of the persons above named, Simon Stone (sen'r.,) 'deacon of Watertown,' was adm. freeman 1636; Simon Stone (jun.,) was Representative in 1678 and 1679. Philemon Dalton died in Ipswich, Nov. 10, 1661; his son, Hon. Samuel Dalton, was Representative from Hampton for 12 years from 1662, and member of the first Council of President Cutt, of New Hampshire. Samuel Morse, adm. freeman at Dedham, 1640, died at Medfield, Dec, 5, 1654; Joseph Morse was one of the first settlers of Dedham: Roger Buck settled in Cambridge, where his sons John and Ephraim were born in 1644 and 1645. Thos. Barrett, d. at Chelmsford, Oct. 6, 1664; Thos. Joslin [Jostlin] died at Lancaster, Mass., Feb. 3, 1661. Matthew Marvin settled in Norwalk, and was a Deputy to the General Court from that town in 1657; Matthew Marvin, Jr., was a Deputy from Norwalk in 1694 and 1697. William Roscoe settled in Hartford and had charge of the prisoners and House of Correction, 1647–1650. John Rogers settled in New London, and was often a Deputy.

The family settled in Wethersfield, Connecticut, where Thomas Kilborne, Sen., died previous to 1639, at which date lands were recorded to "Frances Kilborne, widow."* Mrs. Frances Kilborne died in 1650.

The subjoined letter from Judge Goodwin is here inserted in the text as a fitting introduction to the valuable documents which follow it:

"HARTFORD, CONN., January 13, 1853.

Dear Sir.—I am truly obliged to you for your favor of the 29th ult., giving me the particulars which I solicited you to obtain for me, and have the pleasure to make you, at this time, a very considerable payment towards the large amount in which I am indebted to you.

In looking over some old Probate papers, there came to the light, the last Will and Testament and the Inventory of your first American ancestress, Frances Kilborne. I have made copies of both Instruments to-day, which I shall herein enclose.

The will, as you will notice, is nuncupative. It was made on the 13th of November, 1650, and the Inventory was taken on the 3d of December next following. Between these two dates she must have died. The will was probably made on her death-bed. By the date of her death, and the data given by Judge Savage, in his "Gleanings," she was 65 years of age at the time of her decease.

In the will, you will find one devizee more than those before ascertained by you,—"My grand-child, Elizabeth Spencer." Who this

* Nathaniel Goodwin, Esq., of Hartford, (under date of May 22, 1848, writes:—"FRANCES KILBOURN, your ancestress, (her husband having deceased before the distribution of the town was recorded in 1639,) had a home lot of three acres, on the west side of Broad Street—being the same lot, together with another home lot next adjoining on the south, originally Samuel Smith's—now known by the name of the "Chester Place"—a beautiful situation. The Kilbourn lot, either in whole or in part, remained in the hands of the Kilbourn family to and including the fourth generation."

As stated by Judge Goodwin in the foregoing extract, the home lot of Samuel Smith joined the Kilborne homestead on the south. The next home lot still farther south was owned and occupied by his son, Lieutenant Philip Smith, who subsequently removed to Hadley, Mass., in 1659, where, according to the famous Cotton Mather, he "was murdered by an hideous witchcraft," in January, 1684. The particulars of his death, as given by Mather (Magnalia, book vi, chap. vii,) are so characteristic of the writer and of the age in which he lived, that I will here give them in full as a quaint curi-

Elizabeth Spencer was, I know not; but feel much interest in knowing, and shall attempt to make the discovery.

The work on which I am engaged, is the Spencer and Edwards Families,—together with Genealogical notes of several others who were connected with those families in marriage.

The evening being far spent, I must wish you good night.

Very respectfully, your friend and servt.,
NATHANIEL GOODWIN.

osity. Lieut. Smith, the reader will have observed, was one of the nearest neighbors of the Kilbourns of Wethersfield for a period of twenty years.

"Mr. Philip Smith, aged about fifty Years, a Son of eminently Vertuous Parents, a Deacon of the church in Hadley, a member of the General Court, a Justice in the Countrey Court, a select Man for the Affairs of the Town, a Lieutenant of the Troop, and which crowns all, a Man for Devotion, Sanctity, Gravity, and all that was honest, exceeding Exemplary. Such a Man was in the Winter of the Year 1684, murder'd with an hideous Witchcraft, that fill'd all those Parts of New England with Astonishment. He was, by his Office concern'd about relieving the Indigences of a wretched Woman in the Town; who being dissatisfy'd at some of his just Cares about her, express'd herself unto him in such a manner, that he declar'd himself thenceforward apprehensive of receiving Mischief at her hands.

"About the Beginning of January, he began to be very Valetudinarious, labouring under Pains that seem'd Ischiatick. The Standers by could now see in him one ripening apace for another World, and fill'd with Grace and Joy to an high Degree. He shew'd such Weanedness from and Weariness of the World, that he knew not (he said) whether he might pray for his Continuance here: And such assurance he had of the Divine Love unto him, that in Rapture he would cry out, Lord stay thy hand; it is enough, it is more than thy frail Servant can bear. But in the midst of these things he still utter'd an hard Suspicion that the ill Woman who had threatened him, had made Impressions with Inchantments upon him. While he remain'd yet of a sound Mind, he very sedately, but very solemnly charg'd his Brother, to look well after him. Tho', he said, he now understood himself, yet he knew not how he might be. But be sure, (said he) to have a care of me, for you shall see strange things. There shall be a Wonder in Hadley! I shall not be dead when 'tis thought I am! He press'd this Charge over and over; and afterwards became Delirious; upon which he had a Speech incessant and voluable, and (as was judg'd) in various Languages. He cry'd out, not only of Pains, but also of Pins, tormenting him in several parts of his Body; and the Attendants found one of them.

"In his Distresses he exclaim'd much upon the Woman aforesaid, and others, as being seen by him in the Room; and there was divers times both in Item. To my grand-child, Elizabeth Spencer, my other black gown, and my linsewoolse peticoat,—a black hat.

Item. I give all the rest of my apparal to my three daughters, to be divided amongst them,—Lydia, Mary and Frances.

Item. To my son John, I give three sheets; and the rest of my linen, to my three daughters, equally to be divided to Lydia, Mary and Frances.

And I make my son John my whole and sole Executor. The witnesses that this is the last will of Frances Kilborne, are Samuel Smith, and Nathaniel Dickinson, and Elizabeth the wife of Samuel Smith."

that Room and over the whole House, a strong Smell of something like Musk, which once particularly so scented an Apple roasting at the Fire, that it forc'd them to throw it away. Some of the young Men in the Town being out of their Wits at the strange Calamities thus upon one of their most belov'd Neighbors went three or four times to give disturbance unto the Woman thus complain'd of: And all the while they were disturbing of her, he was at ease, and slept as a weary Man: Yea, these were the only times that they perceiv'd him to take any Sleep in all his Ilness. Gally pots of Medicines provided for the sick Man were unaccountably empty'd: audible Scratchings were made about the Bed, when his Hands and Feet lay wholly still, and were held by others. They beheld Fire sometimes on the Bed; and when the Beholders began to discourse of it, it vanish'd away. Divers People actually felt something often stir in the Bed, at a considerable distance from the Man: It seem'd as big as a Cat, but they could never grasp it. Several trying to lean on the Bed's head, tho' the sick Man lay wholly still, the Bed would shake so, as to knock their heads uncomfortably. A very strong Man could not lift the sick Man to make him lie more easily, tho' he applied his utmost Strength unto it; and yet he could go presently and lift a Bed-sted and a Bed, and a Man lying on it, without any strain to himself at all. Mr. Smith dies: The Jury that view'd his Corpse, found a Swelling on one Breast, his Privities wounded or burn'd, his Back full of Bruises, and several Holes that seem'd made with Awls. After the Opinion of all had pronounc'd him dead, his Countenance continued as Lively as if he had been Alive; his Eyes closed as in a Slumber, and his Nether Jaw not falling down.

"Thus he remain'd from Saturday Morning about Sun rise, till Sabbath-day in the Afternoon; when those who took him out of the Bed, found him still warm, tho' the Season was as cold as had almost been known in any Age: And a New-English Winter does not want for Cold. On the Night following, his Countenance was yet fresh as befor; but on Monday morning, they found the Face extremely tumify'd and discolor'd. It was black and blue, and fresh Blood seem'd running down his Cheek upon the Hairs. Divers Noises were also heard in the Room where the Corpse lay; as the Clattering of Chairs and Stools, whereof no account could be given.

"This was the End of so good a Man.

"And I could with unquestionable Evidence relate the Tragical Deaths of several Good Men in this Land, attended with such preternatural Circumstances, which have loudly call'd upon us all to work out our own Salvation with Fear and Trembling."

8. JOHN, youngest child of Thomas and Frances Kilbourn, was baptized at Wood Ditton, England, September 29, 1624. On the 15th of April, 1635, he embarked for New England with his parents and sisters, on board the "Increase," Robert Lea, master. He was then a lad of ten years. As I have elsewhere stated, the family settled in Wethersfield, on the west side of the Connecticut river, six miles below the present city of Hartford, where the subject of this notice spent the remainder of his days, and where he was long a useful and prominent citizen. On the 24th of September, 1647, at the age of 23 years, his name occurs for the first time upon the Wethersfield Records—he having been appointed "Collector of the Tax Rates" at that date. His first record as a land-holder bears date May 20, 1649.

On the 8th of March 1654, Mr. Kilbourn was appointed a member of the committee to run the Boundary Line between Wethersfield and "Mattabossett" (or Middletown), and three years subsequently he was chosen a member of a new committee for the same work. On the 2d of April, 1655, John Kilbourn and Thomas Wright were appointed "to run ye line betwixt Hartford and Wethersfield upon ye second day of next week." In May, 1657, he was confirmed by the General Court "to be Sergeant at Wethersfield;" and from that time forward, he is almost uniformly designated upon the Town Records as "Sergeant Kilbourn."

At the October Session of the General Court, 1660, Sergeant Kilbourn took his seat in that body, for the first time, as a Representative from Wethersfield. He was a member at seven stated and special sessions, during a most interesting period of our colonial history. In May, 1661, (Sergt. Kilbourn being in attendance,) an address to the King was presented to the Court for consideration by a committee previously appointed for that purpose. It was approved; and a committee was appointed to draw up a Petition to his Majesty, and to "compile and methodize the address as they shall judge most convenient, provided ye substance be still attended and retained." The petition and address were perfected; Governor Winthrop was appointed the Agent of the Colony to present them to the King,—and £500 were set apart for the furtherance of the great object contemplated. These measures resulted in procuring the famous Charter of 1662—by far the most liberal and republican instrument of civil government that the world at that date had ever seen. Under its benign auspices, the people of Connecticut continued to live and flourish until the adoption of our present State Constitution, in 1818—a period of 156 years. Sergeant Kilbourn was a member of the Legislature during nearly every regular and special session, from the date of the first proposition for the Address and Petition, to the time when the charter arrived in the Colony—September, 1662; and it is fair to presume that he was a deeply interested participant in those important measures that resulted in the comparative freedom of the colony in which he had laid the foundations of a Home for himself and his posterity.

At the May Session of the General Court, 1662, Sergeant Kilbourn was appointed by that body a member of the Colonial Grand Jury—an office which he continued to hold until the organization of the counties, in May, 1666. He was subsequently often a Grand Juror of Hartford county; also of Particular Courts, and Courts of Magistrates. In May, 1677, he was on the "Jury of Life and Death," at Hartford.

In town affairs, our ancestor was conspicuous for a period of nearly 40 years. Besides being a Collector, Lister and Constable, he was a Selectman for eleven years between 1657 and 1681, inclusive. During this period, a by-law was in force, providing that no person should be elected to the latter office for more than two years in succession. He also served on many important committees.

died before Frances, it is certain that several of the children and grandchildren of George were then living in Rowley. As George did not come to New England with the other members of the family, and as there was little or no intercourse between the people of Wethersfield and Rowley, may not his residence have been unknown, and his death without issue presumed?

In October 1675, in the midst of the general war with King Philip, John Kilbourn petitioned the Council of War to be released from the office of Sergeant, which he had held for 18 years; and it was ordered that when Major Talcott should procure a suitable person in his place, he should be released.*

* See J. Hammond Trumbull's "Colonial Records," vol. ii, p. 375. His military rank should not be judged by the present grade of the title which he bore. Previous to 1653, the highest military title in the colony was that of Captain. In the year last named, the commander-in-chief of all the New England forces, in the war with the Dutch at New York, was Captain John Lawrence of Boston; Lieutenant Cook being the commander-in-chief of the Connecticut troops in that war. In the Pequot War, the General Court ordered that, on the death or disability of Captain Mason, Lieutenant Seelye should be the commander-in-chief; and in the event of his death or disability, the senior Sergeant should take the chief command.

Oct. 25, 1677.—"At the same meeting, Mr. Samuel Talcott, Lieut. Thomas Hollister, Ensign Hugh Wells, Sergt. Kilburne and Sergt. Nott, are appointed a committee in the behalfe of the Towne, to setle and determine the bounds of the Highway which leads from Widow Goaff's home lott to Midletown so far as Dividend Brooke."

"Mr. Kimberly and Sergt. Kilborne are apointed a Committee to lay out lands granted to Goodman Hunn upon the side of Rocky Hill."

"April 17, 1677.—At Towne meting, Sargt. John Kilborne, Sargt. Hugh Welles and John Beldin ware chosen a Comittee in the behalfe of the towne to deal with John Waddams and to make such an exchange of lands as they may see cause both for the benefit of the towne and for his benefit as they can agree."

"Nov. 27, 1678.—Mr. Gershom Bulkley [minister] had granted to him one hundred and fifty acres of land joyning to his land in his present possesion by his mill. Serjeant Kilburne, Mr. Eleazer Kimberly, Serjt. John Deming and Ensigne Welles are appointed, they or ye most part thereof, to lay out the same."

"March 19, 1683.—Sergt. John Kilborne and Enoch Buck were chosen a Cometee to procure a shepherd for the towne vpon as good termes as they can, who shall be paid by a sheep Rate as aforesaid, as the Comettee aforesaid and the shepherd shall agree, and also take care of what fence is needfull and necessary."

"Dec. 29, 1684.—It was also voted by the Towne, that there shall be a Shepherd imployed by the towne to keep sheep every yeare soe long as shall be needful, and the vote to stand till the towne see cause to alter it; and the Shepherd apointed is to keep all the sheep that belong to the town. And Sergt. John Kilborn and Emanuel Buck are to take care about a Shepherd and what also is needful for the said sheep, according to a voat dated March 19, 1683–4."

That Sergt. K. was a lover of "righteousness and peace," will appear from the following petition, taken from the Land Records, Vol. I, Document 182, in the office of the Secretary of State.

"To the Honored Gov. and Deputy Gov. with the Assistants and members of the General Court now sitting in Hartford. The humble petition of diverse inhabitants of Wethersfield, proprietors in the lands on the East side of the Great River in the field called Naubuck. Whereas the original landmarks between the several divisions of land in the said field now long since lost, and diverse of the proprietors (apprehending much trouble like to ensue thereupon) when the law of possession was made, did during the time that that law was suspended, petition the General Court to appoint a Committee to lay out and limit all the several divisions of land in Naubuck aforesaid according to the original record of the town. And the said Committee did attempt to discharge the trust committed to them, but not being able to find out the south bounds of the said field, they were at a loss and never did anything to effect. And now diverse persons of the said Committee are dead, and the south bounds of the said field are found out and settled by a Committee appointed by the General Court in the case pending between Mr. Bulkeley and Mr. Hollister, whereby the settling of the bounds of the several divisions of land according to the rules of righteousness and peace becomes very feazible, your petitioners being very sensible of great and almost endless troubles likely to ensue to divers of the proprietors unless they will, to their great loss and damage, yield up their just and lawful right to such as will unjustly encroach upon them, do therefore humbly request the Honorable Court to appoint a new Committee to lay out all the said field according to the original record of the town, as the former General Court did appoint, and also to set down leading stakes for the just lines, as need shall require. And now hope that the Honored General Court will not make difficulty about granting our petition because of the present aspect of things, for we do not desire a new grant or title of land, but a settling of us in a judicious way according to the rules of righteousness and peace, upon what was our ancient right and property. And we do the more earnestly desire this favor of the Honored General Court at this time, because it changes threatened consequences; contentions and divisions about limits and bounds of land will inevitably be an aggravation of our trouble,—but not to trouble the Honored Court with a multiplicity of words, we subscribe ourselves your humble suppliants and servants.

JOHN KILBUREN, SEN'R.
JOSHUA ROBINS,
SAM'L WELLES,
ELEAZER KIMBERLY,
EPHRAIM GOODRICH.

Wethersfield, October 13, 1687."

The Response to the above Petition was made by "a General Court held at Hartford," soon after, at which Gov. Treat presided. It was ordered that "upon the petition of John Kilborn and others, that this Court would appoint a Committee to settle the bounds of their lands on the east side of the Great River at Naubuck, This Court do therefore order and appoint Serjt. John Deming, Deac. Samuel Butler, Serjt. John Wells and Ensign Samuel Wright, to attend the said service and perfect the same according to the first and original Grants as near as they can, to begin at the south side of Capt. Talcott's lott and so to proceed as there is occasion."

Sergt. Kilbourn was married to Naomi ——, in 1650; she died, October 1, 1659, leaving three children, viz., John, Thomas, and Naomi. He then married Sarah, daughter of Mr. John Bronson, of Farmington, by whom he had Ebenezer, Sarah, George, Mary, Joseph, and Abraham. He departed this life on the 9th of April, 1703, in his 79th year—or, as the Wethersfield Record quaintly expresses it, "of his age about 80 years, as nigh as could be come at." Sarah, his widow, died on the 4th of December, 1711, "aged 70 years, or something more," as the record has it.

GENERATION IV.

CHILDREN OF JOHN KILBOURN, OF GLASTENBURY.

SUSANNAH, born February 4, 1674; died May 7, 1685.

2. JOHN, b. in Glastenbury, Oct. 30, 1677; m. Sarah Kimberly, January 25, 1699. Their children were Samuel, John, Sarah and Benjamin. He was chosen a Surveyor of Glastenbury in 1710. Sarah, his wife, died December 25, 1713. He removed to Springfield, Mass., where he was married to Mercy Day, Sept., 1720.* The children of John and Mercy Kilborn, as recorded upon the Springfield Town Records, were—Rachel, b. July 8, 1721; David, b. March 3, 1724; Mercy, b. Nov. 14, 1725. The precise date of the death of John Kilborn, I have not been able to ascertain. It must have occurred some time previous to Sept. 5, 1738, as his widow, Mercy Kilborn, was married at that date to Thomas Horton of Springfield.

3. EBENEZER, b. in Glastenbury, March 10, 1679; m. Sarah Fox, June 1st, 1798, and had children, Susannah, Ebenezer, Richard, Sarah, Josiah, Elizabeth, Gideon, Amos, Naomi, and David. Sarah, his wife, having died Oct. 18, 1714, he m. Elizabeth Davis, of Hartford, May 4, 1715, and by her had sons, James, Thomas, (and probably) John, Benjamin, and Gershom—the three last named being b. in Morris county, N. J., where Ebenezer (the father) d. about 1732.

4. JONATHAN, b. in Glastenbury, Sept. 17, 1681, and settled in Colchester in 1707, where he was living in 1755. He was admitted as a Joint Proprietor of that town in 1713; and was appointed "Way Warden" in 1715, 1727, &c. He had children, Jonathan, Hezekiah and Elizabeth.

5. BENJAMIN, b. in Glastenbury, March 30, 1684. He probably died previous to 1713—as the estate of his brother David, who died that year, was distributed equally between his brothers John, Ebenezer, Jonathan and Abraham; no mention being made of Benjamin, who would, if living, have been entitled by law to an equal share with the others.

6. DAVID, b. in Glastenbury, February 25, 1687; was chosen a Hayward in 1711; and died in 1713, leaving no descendants.

7. ABRAHAM, Esq., b. in Glastenbury, Aug. 25, 1691; m. Sarah, daughter of John Mitchell of Hartford, June 5, 1712. Their children were Mitchell, Abraham and Elizabeth. Sarah, his wife, having died Oct. 3, 1719, he married Mary, daughter of Samuel Tudor, of Windsor, and had Joseph, Sarah and Lucy. Mary, his second wife, died Aug. 5, 1751, and on the 23d of April, he married Abigail House. Mr. K. was a constable of Glastenbury for seven years; a Lister for seven years; Town Treasurer for three years; and Selectman for eighteen years—besides being a Surveyor, Collector and Moderator. He was a Representative to the General Court in 1721, 1730, and 1756. He died in 1770.

FROM THE GLASTENBURY RECORDS.

1725. "Voted, That the east and west sides of the Commons, called the Fourth mile, be settled and ascertained by bound-marks and running the line thereof,—and that Lieut. Benjamin Talcote, Mr. Nath'l. Talcot, Gershom Smith, Abraham Kilborn and Thomas Kimberly be, or any three of them, be a Committee at the charge of the town to do the work."

* "It appears," writes Sylvester Judd, Esq., of Northampton, "that John Kilborn, of Springfield, and Prudence Baker of Northampton, were published in April, 1720; but for some reason they were not married. She married John Alvord, in August, 1721. She was born in 1689, and was, of course, an "old maid" in 1720. From her age and other circumstances, I conclude that the John Kilborn who courted Prudence Baker was the same John Kilborn who married Mercy Day after a short courtship."

KILBOURN, Ebenezer, (s. of John and Susanna) b. 10 Mch., 1679, on E. side River, as the family genealogist thinks—but it is doubtful if John's father lived on that side before 1685; m. Sarah Fox, 1 June, 1698.

KILBOURN, Eleazer, (s. of Ebenezer and Grace) b. 26 July, 1698; took possess. of his mother's dower est., under agreement, in Oct., 1721; d. s. p. 1761.

KILBOURN, John, (s. John and Susanna) b. 1677; res. prob. on the W. (but the fam. genealogist thinks on the E. side the River). No evidence appears that his father was living at Naubuc before 1685; he was father of the famous Capt. John K. of Walpole, N. H.

③ KILBOURN, Joseph, (s. of Sgt. John and Sarah), b. abt. 1672; in Mch., 1717,) lds. of his in Beaver Mead. were taken for a highway; he, with Capt. Jacob and Thos. W. ① KILBOURN, Thomas, the Settler, b. at Wood-Ditton, Eng., 1578; came to New Eng. in the ship Increase in Apl., 1635, and sett. at once at Weth., where he had a ho. and 3 acs. ld. on S. W. side of Broad St., John Fletcher's ho'd adj. him on N. and Sam. Smith's on S., being ld. later of Col. Chester's, and now of Comstock, Ferre & Co., seedsmen.

Welles, dec'd. As this ld. was part of the est. of John Robbin's, "Gentleman," it is apparent that Kimberly's wife was a dau. of Mr. Robbins, to whom the ld. was distr. At the same date, Mr. K., also had another tract on E. side

Thomas Kimberly and His Descendants

1. THOMAS[1] KIMBERLY, baptized at Wootton-sub-Edge, co. Gloucester, England, 24 June 1604, died at Stratford, Conn., about January 1672; married first, at King's Stanley, co. Gloucester, 28 Aug. 1628, ALICE AWOOD, born in England, died at New Haven, Conn., 10 Oct. 1659; married second, about 1660, MARY (———) PRESTON, born about 1601, widow of William Preston.

He was son of Abraham and Katherine (Howe) Kimberly, who were married 4 Oct. 1602. He may have been grandson of Abraham Kimberly, a shoemaker, of Wootton under Edge, who was aged between 50 and 60 in the Militia List of Gloucester, 1606.

He first appears in New England at Dorchester, Mass., 2 Jan. 1637/8, when "Good. Kimberly" was granted an acre there, his name appearing directly under that of "Mr. Trobrige," who also removed from Dorchester to New Haven. [Fourth Report, Boston Record Commissioners, p. 27.]

Thomas Kimberly was one of the founders of New Haven, and an original signer of the "Fundamental Agreement" of 4 June 1639. He was "admitted member of the court," 3 Nov. 1649, and was ordered to keep a pound "by the creeke," 16 Jan. 1642/3. In the list of persons and estates, undated and entered under 1643, but probably drawn up in 1641 or earlier, he was credited with seven persons, presumably himself, his wife and the five elder children, and a small estate incommensurate with his future standing, which must have been based on personal worth and ability rather than on birth or inherited wealth. He was the twentieth to take the oath of allegiance, 1 July 1644, to the new jurisdiction or Colony of New Haven. William Preston succeeded him as keeper of the pound, 8 Dec. 1645. [Records of the Colony and Plantation of New Haven, 1:17, 24, 82, 91, 137, 183.]

Haven, 28 Nov. 1714, dau. of James and Mary (Ball) Russell. No issue. He was Constable of New Haven, 1668, and Corporal of the Train Band, June 1673. [New Haven Town Records, 1662-1684, 225, 311, 313.] On 16 Nov. 1705, Abraham Kimberly of Stratford, Blacksmith, for himself and his sister Sarah Hurd, made over to John Ball of New Haven all interest in the estate of Thomas Kimberly, late of New Haven. [New Haven County Court Rec. Vol. 2 (copy), p. 531.]

iii. MARY, b. probably 1632-37; m. NATHANIEL HAYES of Norwalk, Conn., who d. there (before 12 Mar.) 1706/7.

3. iv. NATHANIEL, b. probably 1632-37.

4. v. ELEAZER, bapt. 17 Nov. 1639.

vi. ABIAH, bapt. 19 Dec. 1641; d. at Wethersfield, Conn., 6 Jan. 1722/3; m. abt. 1665, ISAAC BOARDMAN, b. at Wethersfield, 3 Feb. 1642/3, d. there 12 May 1719, son of Samuel and Mary (Betts) Boardman.

2. ABRAHAM² KIMBERLY (*Thomas*¹), born presumably in England, perhaps about 1630, died in Albemarle (Chowan) County, N.C., (before 27 Mar.) 1680; married HANNAH [perhaps PRESTON, daughter of William and Mary (———) Preston], who died before 21 Oct. 1701, having married second, John Curtis, born at Stratford, 14 Oct. 1642, died at Newark, N.J., 17 Sept. 1704, son of Sergt. John and Elizabeth (———) Curtis.

The name of the mother of the two children of Abraham recorded in New Haven is not stated. In view of the long gap between these two children and the later three recorded at Stratford, it is possible that they were by a former wife who died. However, Hannah is the only wife who appears of record, and since the elder of the two girls born in New Haven was named Hannah, there is no reason to doubt that Hannah was mother of all the children.

The three younger children entered in Stratford records were stated to have been born in Albemarle County, Carolina. Abraham must have been living there in 1672 when his father berly." He stipulated that his son should provide for his wife if she "do survive me . . . under her great Weakness and Age," and made his son executor. The estate was inventoried on 9 Nov. 1705 at £237.12.0. [New Haven Probate Records, 3:73-75.]

Children, born presumably at New Haven:

i. Sarah^3, b. [say 1663]; m. at New Haven, 20 Nov. 1684, Samuel Blakeslee, b. at New Haven, 8 Apr. 1662, d. there (West Haven), 15 Oct. 1732 ae. 70 (g. s.), son of Samuel and Hannah (Potter) Blakeslee. Nine children.

ii. Elizabeth, b. [say 1665]; m. (1) at New Haven, 30 Dec. 1686, John Mallory, b. at New Haven, 10 May 1664, son of Peter and Mary (?Preston) Mallory; seven children; m. (2) Benjamin Barnes, bapt. at Farmington, Conn., 24 July 1653, d. at Waterbury, Conn., 24 Apr. 1731 ae. about 80, son of Thomas Barnes.

6. iii. Nathaniel, b. [say 1668].

iv. Mary, b. abt. Apr. 1671; d. at Guilford, Conn., 14 Jan. 1741/2; m. 26 Aug. 1692, Joseph Chittenden, b. at Guilford, 26 Mar. 1672, d. there 11 Sept. 1727, son of John and Hannah (Fletcher) Chittenden.

v. Abiah, b. [say 1673]; d. at New Haven, 28 Apr. 1704; m. abt. 1700, as his second wife, Joseph Kirby, b. at Middletown, Conn., 17 July 1656, d. there 2 Dec. 1711, son of John and Elizabeth (———) Kirby.

4. Eleazer^2 Kimberly (Thomas^1), baptized at New Haven, Conn., 17 Nov. 1639, died at Glastonbury, Conn., 3 Feb. 1708/9, aged 70 (gravestone); married first, in 1662, ~~Mary Robbins, born at Wethersfield, Conn., 20 Jan. 1641/2,~~ died (no record), ~~daughter of John and Mary (Welles) Robbins, and a grandniece of Gov. Thomas Welles~~; married second, Ruth Curtis, born (no record), died at Wethersfield 29 Dec. 1683, daughter of Thomas and Elizabeth (———) Curtis.

The inscription on his stone in Glastonbury calls him "the town of Glastonbury, and served that town as Deputy, May 1694, May 1696, May and Oct. 1698. He was elected Secretary of Connecticut Colony, May 1696 and held that position until his death, although absent because of illness at the session of December, 1707. He was Commissioner (Justice) for Glastonbury, 1693 and 1694, and Justice, 1698 to 1708 inclusive, and in 1708 was appointed Judge of the Hartford County and Probate Courts. He served on several legislative committees, and in October, 1696, was appointed with Col. John Allyn and Major James Fitch to revise the laws. [Colonial Records of Connecticut, 4:92, 121, 158, 182, 197, 244, 245, 260, 265, 283, 318, 342, 347, 378, 413, 467, 498, 499, 531, 532; 5:20, 37, 41, 62, 63, 64.]

The inventory of his estate, taken 11 Feb. 1708/9, amounted to £356.4.11. His will, dated 30 Jan. 1708/9, gave to his son Thomas most of his lands in Glastonbury, reserving to two daughters, Elizabeth and Ruth, who lived with him, certain rights in the house, and giving a lot of land to Elizabeth; personalty equally to his four daughters, taking into account what they had already received. Son Thomas and daughter Elizabeth to be executors. Friends, Lieut. Samuel Hale and John Curtis, Sr., overseers [Curtis was his brother-in-law]. The will was accepted by endorsement on the original document by the children, Thomas Kimberly, Elizabeth Kimberly, John and Sarah Kilbourn, Ruth Kimberly, and John and Mary Hubbard. [Manwaring's Digest, 2:89.]

Child of Eleazer and Mary (Robbins) Kimberly, born at Wethersfield:

i. Eleazer[3], b. in 1664; d. young, after 1680. We know from Winthrop's Journal that a child was born in 1664, and since Eleazer[2] called himself "senr" in his Stratford deed in 1680, we conclude that the child was a boy, named for himself.

Children of Eleazer and Ruth (Curtis) Kimberly, born at Wethersfield:

ii. Elizabeth, b. ; d. at Glastonbury, Nov. 1746

(g. s.), unm. She was probably the eldest child and was close to her father and helpful to him, for he made good provision for her in his will and appointed her with her brother to execute it. That she was a capable woman is indicated by the fact that thirty-seven years later she left property appraised at £570. Her will, dated 9 Aug. 1746, proved 9 Dec. 1748, remembered her nephews Samuel Kimberly and John Kimberly, giving to the former (whom she named executor) the land she dwelt on "that was my honoured Father's Eleazer Kimberly, Esq^r." She gave legacies to her nieces, Elizabeth Kimberly, Anne Kimberly, and Sarah wife of Thomas Welles of Colchester; to John Hubbard, Jr., Mary Richman and Sarah wife of Abraham Hollister, my red cow [these three were children of her sister Mary]; to Samuel and John Kilborn, Ruth wife of Samuel Mears, and Elizabeth wife of Oliver Dudley, £2 apiece; residue to Ruth wife of Jeremiah Goodrich, Mary wife of Jeduthan Smith, Elizabeth and Anne Kimberly, and Sarah wife of Daniel House. Witnesses: Abner Moseley, William Miller, Elizur Hale. [Hartford Probate Files; Manwaring's Digest, 3:580-1, erroneously renders Samuel and John Kilborn as Kimberly.]

iii. Sarah, b. ; d. at Glastonbury, 28 Aug. 1713; m. at Wethersfield, 25 Jan. 1699/1700, John Kilbourn, b. at Wethersfield, 30 Oct. 1677, d. at "Elbows" [now Palmer], Mass., before 1738, son of John and Susannah (Hills) Kilbourn.

iv. Ruth, b. ; d. at Glastonbury, 4 Nov. 1711, unm.

7. v. Thomas, b. 29 Sept. 1681; d. 29 Jan. 1729/30.

vi. Mary, b. 29 Oct. 1683; d. at Glastonbury, May 1735 in 52d yr. (g. s.); m. at Glastonbury, 17 June 1708, John^4 Hubbard, b. abt. 1680, d. after 1746, son of John^3 and Mary (———) Hubbard.

5. Abraham^3 Kimberly (Abraham^2, Thomas^1), born in Albemarle County, Carolina, 4 Mar. 1674/5, died at Newtown, Conn., (before 26 July) 1727; married at Stratford, 11

JAY KING

OBITUARY

Jay King

Jay King dide suddenly of heart failure at the old farm home six miles south of Britton a week ago Tuesday. The funeral was held Friday of last week. Services were first held at the farm and then at the Methodist church, Dr. Jackson, of the Presbyterian church, officiating. Old friends and neighbors from miles around came to pay their last respects to an old and respected friend. The members of the Masonic order, of which he was an active member, attended the services at the home and church and conducted the beautiful Masonic ritual service at the grave. Mr. King was a member of the city council at the time of his death and the members of that body, with the chief of police, James Foley, were present as a token of the esteem felt for their co-worker.

Jay King was born in Tama county Iowa, October 27, 1856, then a frontier country. A short time later his parents moved to Avoca, Iowa, where they bought land and lived for a number of years. Here Mr. King grew up to manhood. In August, 1882, in company with others, he came to Marshall county to look over the land with a view of homesteading. They left the railroad at Webster and walked to what is now Waverly township. He returned to Iowa in September and remained until the latter part of October when Mr. King and J. True came back to Dakota to spend the winter. At that time they were about the only settlers in this part of the territory. They were twelve miles from Ft. Siseton, where soldiers were quartered. Frank Ford, in Pleasant Valley township, was their nearest neighbor. The following spring his father, S. A. King, came out from Iowa with eighteen cars and a coach loaded with the hardy pioneers who came to open up the new country.

He was married in 1884 to Miss Nell Hall, who died at Kalamazoo, Mich., soon after the birth of a daughter, now Mrs. Leonard Drew, of New York City. In Jan. 1887 he was united in marriage to Miss Elizabeth Stuart and to this union five children were born, all of whom survive him. They are Glen, who lives on the old farm home six miles south of Britton; Sam, of near Spain; Harold, Francis and Fern, who are living in Britton with their mother. All were present at the funeral except Mrs. Drew, who was unable to come on account of illness.

Mr. and Mrs. King lived on the farm until a little over two years ago when they retired and moved to Britton to live, with the exception of the winters of '99-1900 and '01-'02, which they spent in Oregon.

Mr. King was a man of sound judgement, deep sympathy and sterling character. He made many friends and few enemies. Few men live an active life, as he did, and leave none behind them when they pass on to speak ill of them.

At the time of his death Mr. King was a member of the city council. He attended the Presbyterian church and was an active member of the Masonic bodies. In his death the community loses one of its best citizens. In the home he was a loving and faithful husband and father.

Spr~~o~~use, who passed away June 26, 1943, at the home of her son, Frank Spr~~o~~use at Salem, Oregon, after an illness of several weeks. Following her death the remains were brought to Lewis and funeral services were held at the Christian church Friday afternoon at two o'clock. The Rev. A. Breeling, pastor of the Methodist church officiated. The singing was by Mrs. Harry Berry and Miss Ruth Woodward, with Mrs. Myrtle Upson as accompanist. Songs were "In the Garden" and "Sometime We'll Understand." Casket bearers were H. G. Marker, Otis Conn, John Pont, Henry Multhaup, B. M. Painter and Harry Berry. Burial was made in the Oakwood cemetery.

Alp~~h~~a King Spr~~o~~use was born in Tama county, Iowa, May 10, 1858, and passed away at the home of her son, Frank Spr~~o~~use, at Salem, Oregon, June 26, 1943, at the age of 85 years, 1 month and 16 days. On May 30, 1875, she was united in marriage to Chas. L. Spr~~o~~use, a civil war veteran. Mr. Spr~~o~~use passed away in 1916. They came to Lewis to make their home and resided here until the death of her husband. The union was blessed with eight children, of which number four sons and one daughter are deceased. They were: Samuel L., a soldier of the Spanish-American war; John W., Charles A. and Marion E., who served in World War I, in France and an infant daughter. KING

1. JOHN KING, born near 1600, undoubtedly came with Deputy Governor John Humphrey. (Winthrop's History of New England, 1: 160.) On 2 Sept. 1640, John King and his wife Mary appeared in Boston before Thomas Lechford and employed him to compound their accounts. In his Note-Book Lechford calls them "heretofore servants to the wor^{ll} John Humfrey, Esq^{r}." He further notes that "They were bound to serve foure yeares only . . . to be freed when they came to New England," and that "since his departure" into New England "John King hath served John Humfrey twelve weekes." Winthrop tells us that Mr. Humfrey brought ordnance, muskets, powder and sixteen heifers which were given by Mr. Richard Andrews to the ministers of the plantations. John King in the service of the Deputy Governor undoubtedly assisted him in getting these into New England. Mr. Humphrey came before 3 May, 1631, and land was granted to him at Saugus, 6 Mar. 1632–33. He brought his property and his family to New England in July, 1634. In view of these facts we are justified in the inference that his servants John Legg and John King came with him before 3 May, 1631. (Massachusetts Bay Colony Records, 1: 86.)

On 23 June, 1657, John King of Weymouth deposed before Thomas Danforth in Middlesex County Court in the case of Joshua Tead versus Richard Collicut. He stated that he was "about 57 yeares" of age and "that he was with Mr. Richard Colicut in Kenebeak River . . . " in May, 1656. (The Genealogical Advertiser, 1: 90–95.) This deposition gives his approximate age as born near 1600.

John Humphrey came from Dorchester in the county of Dorset, which is six miles north from Weymouth, and it is likely that John and Mary King came from the same locality. Neither the marriage of John Humphrey nor that of John King is on record in the parish of Holy Trinity in Dorchester.

John King, Sr., was a resident of Weymouth from 1639 to 1669. He early had lands granted to him, although the bounds only remain. He had one of the great lots granted 2 Feb. 1651–52, and John King, seaman, and John King, planter, each had lots in the First Division and in the Second Division granted them 14 Dec. 1663. (Weymouth Land Grants, 281, 282, 283.) He witnessed a deed from Robin Hoode, of Negwasset, an Indian, to John Richards, 22 Apr. 1649, and made oath to the same 22 Aug. 1654. (Suffolk Deeds, 2: 52.)

He with others appears before the General Court in Boston, 4 Dec. 1638, to give evidence about the murderer which "they took from the island." (Records of the Court of Assistants, 2: 77.)

He married Mary ——, who was his wife 2 Sept. 1640. (Lechford's Note-Book, 308.) He married (2), near 1647, widow Dorothy (Barker) Hunt, successively widow of —— Barker and of Enoch Hunt of Weymouth. Dorothie King, wife of John King of Weymouth, seaman, made her will 14 June, 1652, bequeathing to her of John and Ruth Whitman of Weymouth. Philip King of Weymouth, yeoman, and Judith, his wife, sell Remember Briggs land in Weymouth, 1 Mar. 1672–73. They also sell unto Elizabeth Briggs, widow, other land in Weymouth on the same day and give possession by "Turfe and Twigge." (Suffolk Deeds, 8: 210, 211.) Four deeds were acknowledged by these grantors, 21 July, 1673. He was chosen a member of a committee at Weymouth, 27 Nov. 1682, to consider the advisability of building a new meeting house. He soon removed to Taunton. Although several of his children were probably born in Weymouth, their records have not been preserved.

X THOMAS KING married, as early as 1672, Mary Sprague, daughter of William and Millicent (Eames) Sprague of Hingham. She was born at Hingham, 25 Apr. 1652. In his will, dated 19 Oct. 1675, William Sprague bequeaths to his daughter Mary King, the wife of Thomas King. He resided in Weymouth 1670 to 1673. The evidence at hand does not indicate that he is identical with Thomas King of Scituate.

Children, born at Weymouth:
John, b. 29 Aug. 1670.
Mary, b. 12 June, 1673.

HEZEKIAH KING married, before 1686, Mary ——. Hezekiah, the son of John King, Jr., was alive 2 Dec. 1686, and Hezekiah, the son of Samuel King, was alive 20 Jan. 1710–11. He gave a bond in £200 unto His Excellency Sir Edmund Andros, Knight, Captain General and Governour, that Thomas Swift and Elizabeth Thompson of Weymouth, spinster, might contract marriage, 22 Sept. 1687. (Suffolk Court Files, 130004.) He was styled a husbandman of Weymouth.

On 11 Mar. 1705–06, in the division of the estate of John Shaw among his children, his daughter Mary King, widow, and her four sons and daughter are referred to. (Suffolk Probate, N. S., 6: 181.)

Child, born at Weymouth:
Samuel, b. 20 Apr. 1686.

SAMUEL KING, born near 1690, married, before 1708, Sarah ——, the mother of his six children, born at Weymouth between 1707 and 1723.

Children, born at Weymouth:
Samuel, b. 11 May, 1708.
Marcy (or Mary), b. 20 Oct. 1709.
Sarah, b. 11 Mar. 1711–12.
Hezekiah, b. 3 June, 1713. He sold Nicholas Phillips of Weymouth a salt marsh in the northern part of Weymouth, "near Sandy Bank," 13 Mar. 1762. (Suffolk Deeds, 100: 17), and d. in 1765.

Nehemiah, b. 1717.
Ruth, b. 7 Mar. 1722; probably m. 21 Aug. 1736, Nehemiah White of Weymouth.

JOHN KING of Weymouth, yeoman, made his will 13 Jan. 1755, and it was proved at Boston, 6 Feb. 1756. To his wife (not named) he gave his whole estate. To Jonathan Hollis, son of Thomas Hollis, one-half of his real estate at decease of his wife. To Thomas Hollis, son of Thomas Hollis, the other half. To Abiezer Holbrook, Jr., £10 in lieu of indentures to teach him the trade of a cordwainer. His wife and his friend, Thomas Hollis, to be executors. Witnesses: Job Nash, Zachariah Shaw and Eben^r^ White. Administration to his widow and Thomas Hollis was granted 6 Feb. 1756. (Suffolk Probate Records, 51: 101.)

Martha King of Weymouth, widow, made her will 7 Feb. 1757, bequeathing to Jonathan Hollis and Thomas Hollis, Jr., her estate. Witnesses: Eben^r^ Clark, Eben^r^ Hollis and James Clark. Probated at Boston, 4 Mar. 1757, at which time James Clark was absent. Inventory of estate of John King taken at Weymouth, Feb. 1756; total, £262 5*s*. (Suffolk Probate Records, 52: 171, 173.)

He entered his intention at Weymouth, 5 Feb. 1713, with Martha Vinson. They evidently had no surviving children.

Child, born at Weymouth:
Martha, b. 12 Sept. 1716; d. before 1756.

WILLIAM KING, aged 40, Dorothy ——, his wife, aged 34, Mary, his daughter, aged 12, Katheryn, aged 10, Hannah, aged 6, and William, his son, aged 8 years, sailed from Weymouth in Dorset on or near 20 Mar. 1634–35, in Rev. Joseph Hull's Company, and arrived at Dorchester 7 June, 1635. As there is no reference to his name in the Weymouth Land Grants or other Weymouth records it is apparent that he did not settle there. He evidently settled in Salem, and there died shortly before 25 Feb. 1650–51. The settlement of his estate shows that he had a widow, Dorothie Kinge; an eldest son, William; a second son, Samuel, then 18 years of age; a third son John, aged 13, a daughter, Mary, then wife of John Scudder; a second daughter, Katherine, then wife of John Swaysy; a third daughter, Hannah; a fourth daughter Mehitable, aged 15; and a fifth daughter, Deliverance, aged 9. (Records of the Quarterly Courts of Essex County, 1: 206.)

It has been conjectured that he came from Sherborne in Dorset. The baptisms, marriages and burials of all Kings in that parish from 1545 to 1695 were published in Notes and Queries for Somerset and Dorset, 3: 144–146, and they show that one William King married there, 17 Feb. 1616–17, Dorothy Hayne, but no positive proof has been found showing that these were the identical persons who came in Hull's Company. (Notes and Queries for Somerset and Dorset, 8: 358; 11: 87.)

daughter Sarah Hunt her movables "which were mine before I married with my now husband John King; . . . the care of her I committ to Mr. Thomas Thatcher, Mr. Richard Collicott and John Kingsley of Dorchester." To her daughter Ruth Barker and to her daughter Susannah Heath other things. Her husband John King to be saved harmless from debts. Her son Joseph Barker to be executor, and he to have her right in her servant Thomas Perriman. In case Ephraim Hunt sue her son Joseph as executor for disbursements to herself, the expense to be borne equally. Mr. Thomas Thatcher, Mr. Richard Collicott and her husband to be overseers. Witnesses: William Thompson and Jone Smyth. William Thompson made oath 21 Oct. 1652, and it was proved 17 Nov. 1652. The inventory was taken 18 Oct. 1652. (Register, 5: 239; 8: 60.) She died at Weymouth between 14 June, 18 Oct. 1652. He married (3) at Weymouth, 14 Oct. 1658, Abigail (Hewes) Hatch, widow of William Hatch, Jr., of Scituate, and daughter of John Hewes of Scituate, "the Welchman." He and his wife Abigail were living in Weymouth in 1669, when they gave a deed which is on record at Plymouth. John King, "senior," was chosen selectman of Weymouth in November, 1669. (Town Records.)

He was master of the boat of Thomas Applegate of Weymouth in Oct. 1640, and said boat was overladen at Weymouth with salt (Lechford's Note-Book, 392.) King's Cove and King's Grove in the northwestern part of Weymouth perpetuate the name of this pioneer. He was living in Thomas Jenner's house at Weymouth, 28 Dec. 1649. (Register, 19: 247.)

Children:

2. John, Jr.,^{2} received grants 14 Dec. 1663.
3. Samuel, marriageable, 17 Sept. 1658.
Mary, b. at Weymouth, 15 June, 1639; m. there 30 Nov. 1658, Josiah Chapin of Braintree and Mendon; d. 30 May, 1676.
Abigail, b. at Weymouth, 14 Mar. 1641.
4. Philip, b. at Weymouth, near 1645.

2. JOHN^2 KING, Jr. (John^1), married as early as 1647, Hester (Esther) Bayley, daughter of Thomas Bayley, Sr., of Weymouth. Her father, in his will dated 23 May, 1681, gives unto his daughter Esther, the wife of John King, £20. John King of Weymouth made his will 2 Dec. 1686, and it was probated 29 Apr. 1691. He mentions his wife Esther and what she has received from her father Thomas Bayley, his youngest daughters Patience and Johannah, his son Samuel his children, his son Hezekiah, his son John, his daughter Sarah Bogle, and his daughters Susan and Esther. His wife Esther to be executrix. Mr. Samuel Torrey and Jonas Humphrey, Sr., overseers. Witnesses: Dea. Jonas Humphrey, Richard Phillips and Jonas Humphrey, Jr. His inventory was taken 29 (month missing), 1688 and it refers to his homestead and other lands on "Wester neck", "ye Island," "Grape Island," "y^e great plaine" and "ye second division." His widow Esther made oath to it in court, 25 May, 1691. (Suffolk Probate Records, 8: 40, 205.) He died in 1688, and his widow died at Weymouth, 28 Feb. 1700–01. John King, Jr., of Weymouth, "lighterman," gave a bond to Thomas Dyer of Weymouth, clothworker, 9 Nov. 1664. (Suffolk Deeds, 5: 5.)

Children, born at Weymouth:

Sarah,^{3} b. near 1647; m. at Weymouth, 16 July, 1662, Alexander Bogell (Bogle), a Scotchman, of Boston. He d. at Roxbury, 27 Mar. 1706; she d. there 2 Sept. 1712.

Susan, alive 2 Dec. 1686.
Patience, b. 4 Oct. 1668.
Johannah, youngest, alive 2 Dec. 1686.

3. SAMUEL^2 KING (John^1) was born probably as early as 1640; died at Weymouth, 24 Dec. 1711. He married at Weymouth, 17 Sept. 1658, Experience Phillips, daughter of Nicholas Phillips of Weymouth. She was born there 8 May, 1641, and died, a widow, at Weymouth, 21 Jan. 1717–18. Samuel King of Weymouth "being in old age," made his will 20 Jan. 1710–11, and it was probated 17 Apr. 1712. He bequeathed to his wife Experience, to his son John King, one-half of his homestead; to his son Hezekiah King the other half, and to his six daughters, viz., Susannah, Elizabeth, Experience, Sarah, Hannah and Abigail King. His wife Experience King to be executrix and his son John King executor. Witnesses: Tho. White, Elkanah Wales, and Ephr. Hunt. Inventory taken by John Shaw and Gideon Tirrell, "arms 25*s*." 70 M v. Horace Allen KING-1091 was born 27 Apr 1830 in Worcester, Washington, VT.

b., VR, Worcester, B. 1, p. 109.

John also married (2-MRIN:303) Anna STORES ?-1092 on 17 Nov 1833 in Clarksfield, Huron, OH.

Circumstantial evidence indicates that Anna Stores may have been John King's 2nd wf. (Quotation from S. A. King biography) "While in Ohio, after taking his step-mother there, he married in April, 1853, Miss Hannah Studwell, born in New York State."

Amherst Correspondence.

Editor of the Sentinel:

I see by the Sentinel of last week that the farmers of Pleasant Valley have come to the conclusion that the sowing of small grain next spring will be a failure on account of Russian thistles. Now I think this is a wise conclusion, thistles are what wheat should have been an article of the past had diversified farming taken place, in my opinion there would not have been so many empty houses in the county to day. Cattle, corn and hogs with creameries and cheese factories will give better satisfaction than all the wheat in the world that we can produce for 30 or 40 cents per bushel. Noticing Mr. H. L. Cooke's corn planter in the Sentinel I will give my experience and advice of

NAMES OF EARLY SETTLERS.

Rev. Dr. Field, who made inquiries, when sources of information were more abundant than they now are, into the early settlement of the town, published the result in 1844. He appears to have relied chiefly upon traditions, and to have been entirely unacquainted with the measures for settlement before 1752, so that some errors naturally appear in his statement. We, however, here reproduce the essential portions, which may be compared with the text of the present work.

In 1752–3, Solomon Deming moved his family into the east part of the town. . . . . This year Charles Goodrich drove the first team and cart into the town, cutting his way for a number of miles through the woods. Nathaniel Fairfield also this year settled on the road running east from the house of the late Deacon Daniel Crofoot and Zebediah Stiles, on a rise of ground west of the dwelling of the late Dr. Childs.

It is understood that Abner and Isaac Dewey, Jacob Ensign, Hezekiah Jones, Samuel Taylor, Elias Willard, and Dea. Josiah Wright became settlers this year, and that Simeon and Stephen Crofoot, David Bush, and Col. William Williams became settlers the year following. . . .

In 1754, Eli Root, Esq., Ephraim Stiles, William Wright, and perhaps others, became inhabitants. . . .

On the road running west from the centre were Zebediah and Ephraim Stiles, Ezra Strong, Charles Miller, David Roberts, David Ashley, Amos and Oliver Root, and others by the name of Wright, Robbins, Belden, Hubbard, Francis and Wadhams; east were Rev. Mr. Allen, John Strong, Dr. Colton, the Crofoots, and Jacob Ensign; and further on to the north-east Josiah so large that there was no chance of electing candidates on any other ticket, but that a vote for any such other candidate would be a vote thrown away. They then concluded to and did make overtures to the political element in Day county who had for a long time suffered under the machine rule of that county, with the result that it was concluded to nominate two of the best available men in the two counties, and go before the voters asking for the undivided support of all opposed to ring rule. Hon. Nels Lindgren, who resides near Waubay, in Day county, and Samuel A. Bell of our county, were placed in nomination by petition. Neither of these nominees were aspirants for the office. Mr. Bell never has held a political office. Mr. Lindgren had been a Representative from Day county for two terms, with credit to himself and to his county. Both of these gentlemen are directly and financially interested in the welfare of their counties. Mr. Lindgren is a farmer living on his land, and a very popular man where known—a popularity earned by his many sterling qualities. It is predicted that he will get nearly all the votes in the east end of Day county, and be liberally treated by all the rest of the county. It is unnecessary to introduce Mr. Bell to you. He has lived here for over twenty-three years, and if you do not know that he is an ideal candidate, one who will represent you fairly, honestly and well, you can get his history from any one of hundreds of our citizens, and that should be sufficient to warrant you in giving him not only your enthusiastic support, but also to warrant you in getting out and doing [illegible] for the [illegible] of

I find I have used Spain,and Britton interchangeably. We were born on the original homestead, 6 miles south of Britton and 1 mile east of Spain. We lived there until after the death of our father in 1925 and Mother found she could not manage the farm alone. We moved into Britton approximately the fall of 1926 for I started my first year of actual school in Britton. Spain is no longer on the map and the records are at Britton, the county seat. By Mary King Block

HELEN KING

Helen King was born to Jay King and Nell Hall King. After the death of the mother, the daughter, Helen was taken to Fillmore, New York to be raised by her aunt and uncle, Ed. and Addie Armison. She returned to South Dakota for a visit about the age of 18 years. The other members of the family met her then for the first time. Her mother, Nell, had taken a quarter of land in South Dakota in early years, as the law permitted. Helen returned to New York to live and married Leonard Drew. She died in about 1948. It was through her I met my husband, Herb, and his mother.

JAY KING

Jay King was born in Tama County, Iowa on October 27, 1856, the son of Samuel A. and Hannah E. King. He was married to Nell Hall from Fillmore, New York, who died at the birth of their daughter, Helen. Jay King, in 1875 at age 19, rode horseback alone from Avoca, Iowa through Dakota Territory. He stayed at Fort Sisseton much of the time for the soldiers were about the only white people. He spent a night in jail for trading horses with the Indians on the reservation. While at the fort, he became a friend of an Indian scout named Kitchita, who later took the name of James King. Kitchita's many brothers did the same and every time there was a child born to Elizabeth and Jay, a number of children were born to the Indians who took the same name. Now there are many Kings among the Wahpeton and Sisseton tribes. Kitchita (James King) became a well known missionary on the Rosebud Reservation.

While at the Fort, Jay would borrow Colonel Chinniworth and Captain Vanderbook's uniforms so he could attend the dances with the girls brought from Minneapolis by stage coach. That fort was the very social center of the area. Civilians with an invitation to one of the army's social functions were much envied by friends. An orchestra of soldiers played for dinner and dancing and delicacies were imported by Pony Express.

Jay spent one winter on his claim in the sod shanty he built. He had planted trees on each side, as the law required. The trees are still there. When spring came he returned to Iowa and headed five covered wagons, including his family, back to the territory of his claim finding the best way and river and creek crossings. They arrived in 1882. The colony from Iowa were the first settlers in the area. The land had not been surveyed at the time so the settlers squatted on their land. Within 30 days from May, 1883, nearly every quarter had a shanty built.

The original claim lies 6 miles south of Britton. I presume at some point now, Jay met and married his first wife. Here, too, he met Elizabeth Stewart. She tells of their first meeting — we had just arrived in the territory; she and her parents were staying with friends. The house had a loft for an upstairs with just a ladder to reach it. Jay started down the ladder feet first, of course, and she wondered what kind of man would have such long legs. They were married in Britton at the home of Rev. G.L. Beach, Presbyterian minister, with Lizzie King and Mary Stewart as witnesses.

Their children were Glenn Dakota King, first white boy in this part of the territory; Samuel Jay; Harold W.; and Frances, all born in the Spain area. In 1900, Jay and family, looking for new horizons, moved to Gales Creek, Oregon. There, their youngest child, Fern, was born.

To help a friend start a new business Jay was urged to put in $500.00. Farmer Jay could not visualize milk from a can when you could get it from a cow. He and family returned to South Dakota and we find the Carnation Milk Company was started without him.

When started, Britton was to have been built on the King land and called King's Corner but neither Samuel A. nor Jay would sell their land so the town was built at its present location and named for Colonel Britton, a railroad man. He built the house we know as the Rosma house on the land next to my childhood home.

At the ranch 6 miles south of Britton, raising and breaking horses and farming were chief vocations. Somewhat of a store was kept on the back porch to provide supplies for the settlers that came through the area. In later years Jay did not do much farming, he was the neighborhood veterinarian and breeder of Percheron horses. Mrs. Rosie Sayers, a neighbor, would bring wild horses from west of the Missouri River and every Sunday was a rodeo with all the young lads of the area riding to break them, especially Glenn, Sam and the Sayers men. Too, school was reached by horseback. After riding a new horse six miles to school each morning and back at night for a week the horse was deemed broke and offered for sale.

In time Jay and Elizabeth moved to a lovely home in Britton. I didn't know grandfather Jay, but I was extremely fond of grandmother. When about 10 years old, I stayed at her house one summer. She was so much fun, joking and playing games. We all have fond remembrances of our Irish grandmother, Elizabeth Stewart King. Jay died in Britton September 14, 1920 and she died in 1936. By Mary King Block

SAMUEL A. KING

Samuel A. King was born in Orange County, Vermont, March 13, 1826. He died at Britton, South Dakota, October 15, 1906. There is no record of his first marriage but there was one child, Horace G., born in Indiana in 1853. Mr. King later married Hannah E. King, who was born in New York in July, 1829 and died in Britton, December 22, 1894. Children born to them were Jay (born in Tama County, Iowa, October 27, 1856, died at Britton, Septebmer 14, 1920); Alpha Sprouse (born in Iowa in 1858); Will (born in Iowa April 15, 1860 and died in Britton, June 28, 1902); Mary Ann Kann (born at Avoka, Iowa in 1864) and Elizabeth Leach (born at Avoka, Iowa in 1869).

This much I have from records of the National Archives 1880, 1870 and 1860. There is some variation of the ages due time the census was taken over the period of each year. Much of census burned in 1890 and the 1900 census has just been opened to the public.

An "old settlers" book lists Samuel A. King in this way: 1826 Orange County, Vermont; 1839 Huron County, Ohio (?); 1846 New Rockford, Illinois; 1853 Tama County, Iowa; then on to Avoka, Iowa and to South Dakota in 1883. The first national census was taken in 1850 listing all members of the household. Hoping to find his father's name, I checked out every suggestion anyone has given me but could not place him. The 1840 listing is an enumeration with just the head of the household and number of persons living under his roof at the time of the census. Samuel is just 14 years and very likely not the head of a household so would not be listed by his own name. Unless Samuel's parents' names are available, the birth records of Vermont are not open to me at present. Vermont came into the Union in such a different way that I do believe that the King family lived elsewhere on the East coast during the Revolution or shortly thereafter.

Because this family, with many others, crossed the states while areas were still unorganized or still territories, most records are just not in existence. The Erie Canal provided the route to Ohio, Indiana and Illinois but unless the settlers owned land we will not find information on individuals. To search the land records the exact piece of land owned and recorded must be known to us.

One old book had this information: Northern Ohio settlers on the frontier were Yankess (York Yankees is the meanest of all). A generation later this migration moved on to Indiana. Compact New England settlements were rare. Montpelier was a community transplanted from Vermont. Rew Rutland was settled by 200 families of the Vermont Emigration Association and so it goes on and on.

One day I will try to find the origin of the family of Samuel A. King, born in Orange County, Vermont on March 13, 1826. Compiled by Mary King Block

SAMUEL JAY KING

Samuel Jay King, a son of Jay and Elizabeth King, was born at Spain, South Dakota on June 1, 1890 and died in September, 1920 in Britton. He married Irene Eleanor Gennow, who was born in Minneapolis on October 11, 1887, and died October 1966 in Britton. They were married on June 14, 1913. They had five children, George Robert, Gordon William, Harold Arvel, Margaret Elizabeth and Kathryn S.

Margaret Elizabeth, born at Langford April 26, 1919 was married August 9, 1942 to Reynold Roller, St. Paul, Minnesota, who was born November 28, 1905. They have four children, Kenneth Reynold (September 1, 1944); Eugene Harold (October 30, 1946); Michael Dennis (November 1, 1949) and Jay Christopher (October 12, 1954).

Kathryn S. was born at Langford in February, 1921 and married Stanley Kruger, who was born April 18, 1914.

This family gave me many happy remembrances of childhood. They lived on a farm near Langford and to visit there was a special treat. Such a happy family — full of tricks and jokes — I never knew what would happen next — we laughed constantly. Aunt Irene was an especially good cook — her pies, taffy and candy each Thanksgiving and Christmas will never be equalled or forgotten. Even now the thought of the trapeze in the hay loft frightens me in a wonderful way. Gordon, are you chuckling?

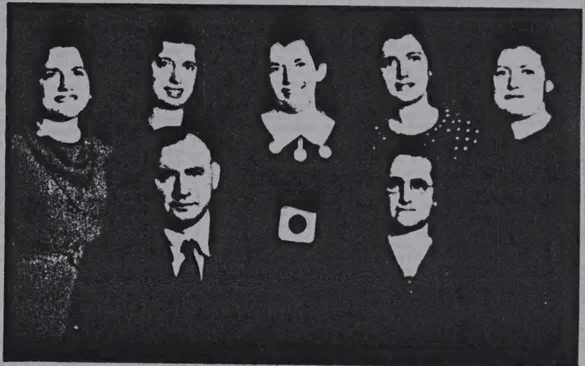
Sig was born to Christen and Louisa Osness in 1892, in Newport Township. He received his education in a one-room country school. He lived an active farm life as he grew up. He was confirmed in the Lutheran Church in Langford.



Sigvald and Anna Osness with Dorothy, Ruby, Sylvia, Edith, and Amy

In 1912, he married Anna Castle from Weston Township. They established a home on a farm in Newport Township, living there until 1916 when they moved to a farm in Lowell Township, SE¼ 19-126-58, where they lived the rest of their married life.

Anna was born to Joseph and Camilla Castle in 1892, in Weston Township. She, also received her education in a one-room country school. She was a member of the Methodist Church in Britton, transferring her membership to the Langford Methodist Church after her marriage.

They had five daughters: Amy, Mrs. Arthur Weier; Ruby, Mrs. John Lamberton; Edith, Mrs. John Symens; Sylvia, Mrs. Clyde Bennett; Dorothy, Mrs. John Hewling; 13 grandchildren and 20 great grandchildren.

Sig and Anna used diversified farming practices, raising cattle, hogs, chickens, and corn and small grains. They were both active in community affairs: Church activities, Spain Community Club, Odd Fellows and Rebeccas, also taking an active role in politics. He served two terms as a County Commissioner. They both liked to have company in their home, and an extra place (or more) at their table was the rule, rather than the exception.

Anna died in 1959. Sig remained on the farm, but retired from farming. In 1964, he married Mabel Olson and they moved to Britton. Mabel died in 1972.

Sig was an active member of the "Fun After Fifty Club" in Britton until his death in 1975.

many of them being constructed of brick and stone, are neat and ornamental in their arrangement, while the taste displayed in the ornamentation of private grounds gives an appearance of homelike comfort and neatness, not usually found in new western towns. One need not see the people, or form their acquaintance, to judge of their character, as the evidences of intelligence and refinement are every where visible in the neatly painted dwellings, and their surroundings of flowers, trees and ornamental shrubbery. No one should visit Iowa Falls without taking a stroll to the cemetery, which is located on the bluffs overlooking the Iowa River a little northwest of town, and is under the special charge of the ladies. The association was formed in 1859 and incorporated in 1861, at which time a tract of about seven acres was purchased, which has been enclosed and ornamented in a style alike creditable to themselves and worthy of the purpose to which it is dedicated. The grounds have been laid out in drives and walks, a beautiful stone vault erected, and several hundred evergreens, maples and other ornamental shade trees planted. The religious societies that have erected houses of worship are the Congregational, Methodist and Baptist, while the Friends and Christians have organizations. The town has been incorporated and a proper system of municipal improvements put under way. It has a large public school building, containing all the modern improvements, one bank, six dry goods, three grocery, two drug and three hardware stores, three hotels, three agricultural implement establishments, two grain elevators, and the usual number of other shops and trades.

ACKLEY.

This flourishing town was first surveyed and laid out in 1857, by J. W. Ackley, of Waterloo, Iowa, in honor of whom it was named. It was not, however, anything more than a paper town until the completion of the Dubuque & Sioux City Railroad in September, 1865, as there was not at that time so much as a single house erected on the present town site. Two years previous to this one Jesse C. Foster, after wandering westward from the land of the Carolinas, of which he was a native, and associating himself for years with backwoodsmen, finally pitched his tent on the suburbs of what is now the town of Ackley. As the surrounding country was settled to a considerable degree, he thought it a good place to commence business, and accordingly set to work to build a store in which he sold goods until 1865, meeting with good success. When the cars arrived, and the shrill whistle of the locomotive blew out loud and long, heralding the march of progress, the town site was nothing but a naked prairie, interspersed with a few clumps of brush. No sooner was the depot established, however, than enterprising men from the east, whose foresight enabled them to discover that it was destined to be a town of considerable importance, began to come in, and the tide of immigration commenced that has continued to flow until the town has now a population of some fifteen hundred, and is the trading and shipping point for a large and well improved farming country.

William Frances erected the first building on Main Street, in which he opened a general variety store. J. C. Foster removed his store into town, and establishing himself on the north side of Main Street, was the second merchant in town. M. Burns, Pardee & Foster, and Carter & Joseph soon after erected warehouses and elevators near the depot, Burns also engaging in the lumber business, as did one Eggert, who started a lumber yard about the same time. A. S. Nye and —— Sechrist built stores a little later. In four months' time five stores, three warehouses, and a number of dwellings were erected, and the place began to assume a business-like appearance.

The town was incorporated in 1869, and now contains a large public school building, several handsome churches, Masonic and Odd Fellows lodges, a large number of business houses, manufactories, etc., etc.

STEAMBOAT ROCK.—This town is pleasantly situated on the east bank of Iowa River, five miles above Eldora, on the line of the Central Railroad of Iowa, and was laid out in 1855, the original proprietors being Isaac N. Lesh, Charles Boyle and John Royal. S. B. Cunningham sold the first goods here, in October, 1855, opening his stock in a stable covered with prairie hay. The town takes its name from a large projecting rock on the river bluff at this point, which at a distance presents the appearance of a steamboat.

ALDEN.—This place is on the west bank of Iowa River, about six miles above Iowa Falls, and one mile from the line of the Iowa Division of the Illinois Central Railroad, where a station is located. Henry Alden first settled here in June, 1854, and in 1856 laid out the village. He also built a saw mill. Excellent lime is manufactured here from stone obtained in the banks of the river. There is good water power at this point.

The other villages and post offices in the county are Abbott, Berlin, Cottage, Ellis, Hardin City, Midland, New Providence, Point Pleasant, Tipton Grove and Union.

POTTAWATTAMIE COUNTY.

Pottawattamie County borders the Missouri River, in the third tier of counties from the south line of the state. With the exception of Kossuth it is the largest in the State, its superficial area being about 960 square miles, or 614,400 acres. Besides the Missouri River, it is drained by numerous small streams which traverse its surface from north to south with a slight westerly deflection.

The western portion of the county is a broad, level strip of territory, from three to ten miles wide, and known as the Missouri River Bottom. Bordering this, on the east, the range of bluffs rises steep and grand, in many places almost perpendicular, from two to three hundred feet in height. The range is parted by numerous narrow valleys and ravines, which descend from the adjacent uplands, but never loses its distinctive outlines. This remarkable range, rising abruptly from the sweeping plain, without a rock or stone upon its face, presents a view at once varied, grand and beautiful. The adjacent uplands are broken, and in many places too uneven for tillage; but are well adapted to grazing, and are frequently interspersed with thrifty groves of timber. Further east the broken outlines give place to a beautiful, undulating or waved surface, peculiar to the Western Slope, alternating with level valleys, from a half mile to a mile in width, bordering the streams. Everywhere there is a pleasing variety of scenery, enhanced in loveliness by a pure atmosphere and a constant succession of rich, mellow tints, which never fail to charm the eye with new and delightful forms and colors revealed by the perpetual play of light and shade upon the varied outlines.

The county is not abundantly supplied with timber, but there is enough, with proper economy in the use, to answer for all ordinary purposes. The largest bodies are the cottonwood groves along the Missouri, but there are also some excellent bodies, embracing different varieties, on West Nishnabotany, Honey, Pigeon and Mosquito Creeks.

The soil is that of the well known bluff deposit, descending to a very great depth, and on the surface richly intermingled with vegetable mold. This entire deposit is strongly silicious, but everywhere finely pulverized and intermingled with a slight proportion of lime, sufficient to give it the remarkable consistency for which it is celebrated. It readily absorbs moisture, so that surplus water never remains upon its surface, and its great depth enables it to retain enough to supply vegetation in case of a long absence of rain. It therefore rarely suffers from extremes of drought or rain. This character holds on the uplands and in the valleys. This peculiar soil seems to be equally well adapted to the production of wheat, corn and grass, a combination which is extremely rare. It lies within the great wheat belt which here deflects down the Missouri river, overlapping the belt noted for the highest production of corn. The other cereals do equally well here. Wild grasses grow luxuriantly, and tame grasses thrive, and the soil is well adapted to vegetables and fruit.

There are exposures of limestone in several places in the southeast part of the county. On West Nishnabotany limestone suitable for building purposes is found. North of Council Bluffs, on Mosquito Creek, and along the Missouri River are also exposures of limestone. At various places along the base of the Missouri bluffs are masses of a coarse quality of sandstone and conglomerate, formed by the percolation of lime water through beds of sand and pebbles belonging to the drift deposit, but this deposit is practically worthless. It is not a stratified rock, and the cementing process usually extends only a few feet inward from the surface.

Good brick is manufactured at Council Bluffs, and materials for the purpose exist elsewhere, but not in abundance.

HISTORY.

In the Summer of 1804, the celebrated explorers, Lewis and Clarke, on their way up the Missouri River, held a council with the Indians at the place where Fort Calhoun was subsequently established, on the Nebraska side of the river, about twenty miles above the present city of Council Bluffs. From this circumstance they gave to that place the name of "Council Bluffs." As early as 1824, a French trader named Hart, had established a trading house on the bluffs just above the large spring, now known as "Mynster Spring," within the limits of the present city of Council Bluffs. At this time the American Fur Company had established various trading posts in the great Northwest, and this point was known to their employes who ascended the river as Lacote de Hart, or Hart's Bluff. The spot was doubtless selected for the advantages of the splendid spring of pure water which bursts out high up on the bluff and flows down in a volume almost sufficiently strong for propelling machinery. At that time the Missouri River was navigated by a few traders and persons belonging to the Fur Company, having their headquarters at St. Louis, and only with small keel boats propelled by hand. In 1827, Francis Guittar, a Frenchman in the employ of the American Fur Company, encamped with others in the timber at the foot of the bluffs where now Broadway with its double row of magnificent business blocks is located. He and his companions indulged in the fine sport of shooting deer, elk, and buffalo on the prairie now within the city limits. He subsequently selected this as his home, counting the years from the date above given. Others, however, permanently located here before he did.

In the Summer of 1838, Davis Hardin and family, including his wife and seven children, landed in the county, at the point then known as Council Point, about four miles below the City of Council Bluffs. Mr. Hardin had been appointed to act as government farmer among the Pottawattamie Indians, who were then about to be removed from the Platte Purchase in Missouri to Iowa. Council Point is now known as Hardin's Bend. A few months after, the Indians were brought up, and Mr. Hardin then removed to where he opened a farm on a little stream known as Indian Creek, now in the business portion of the city. His sons were John, Allen, Richard, and Martin D. Hardin, and became permanent settlers, remaining here throughout the time when the region was under Mormon control, but maintaining very little intercourse with them. When the Pottawattamie Indians were brought up, a number of white persons came also, including traders, agents, and other government employes. The Indians scattered in various portions of the adjacent country, but received their government annuities and supplies at Council Point and Trader's Point, a few miles below the city.

In 1839, two companies of troops came up and built a block house, or sort of fort, on the bluff in the east part of what is now the city, and shortly after, a Catholic Mission was established here under the charge of Fathers De Smith and Veright. They built a dwelling house and used the block-house for religious services. They also located a burying ground near the fort, which is now within the city limits. At this time "Billy Caldwell" was the principal chief of the Pottawattamies. No white persons came as settlers, except those among the Indians as traders and agents in various capacities, or those connected with the military or missions, until the Mormons came in 1846. The Indians remained until 1846-7, when by the treaty of June 5, 1846, they relinquished this territory and removed to Kansas.

MORMONS.

Their departure made way for the advent of the followers of Joseph Smith, who, after the death of the prophet, at Nauvoo, in 1844, turned their faces westward. Brigham Young, with the head men of the church, halted for the Winter of 1846-7, at a place called Winter-quarters, now Florence, Nebraska. In the Spring he departed on his journey with a portion of the colony, but the greater part returned to the Iowa side, mainly within the limits of Pottawattamie County, where others had arrived in the Spring of 1846, in season to plant and secure a crop. The center of this community was established on Indian Creek in the vicinity of the old fort, at a place first called Miller's Hollow, and afterwards by them named Kanesville, in honor of Colonel Kane, of Pennsylvania, who visited them at an early day; but their settlement spread rapidly over the county and into some of the adjoining counties wherever groves of timber and water afforded an available location. Over this community Orson Hyde, priest, writer, editor, and lawyer, was installed as the president of the quorum of twelve, and the country remained under their exclusive control for several years. In 1846, they raised a battalion 500 strong for the Mexican War under Colonel Clark, which, after traversing Northern Mexico, and taking part in the battles there, closed its campaign in California. It is claimed that the gold in the Sacramento was first discovered by this battalion. Here many of them remained and engaged in mining. Mr. William Garner was one of these, who, after securing considerable gold, returned to Kanesville and made his permanent home in the county. The Mormon population was probably most numerous in 1848, but in 1849, after many had left for Utah, it numbered 6,552, and in 1850, 7,828, but they were not all within the present limits of the county. Many followed Brigham Young previous to 1852, when finally the word went round that all true believers should gather together at Salt Lake. The Gentiles now swarmed into Kanesville and all the surrounding country. Farms were sold to them, lots, cabins, and stores were bartered off, all at a ruinous sacrifice, and the migration went forward and continued with diminishing volume during several succeeding years until all who were willing to acknowledge Brigham as their leader and the true successor of the prophet had left the country. A remnant, however, remained, some of them abjuring the Mormon faith, and others rallying around the standard of Joseph Smith, Jr., who abjured the practice of Polygamy.

In 1849, the unexampled rush of emigration to the California gold mines commenced. Kanesville lay directly in its route, and soon became a general rendezvous and starting point for all who crossed the State of Iowa as the last settlement ere they set out upon the plains. Traders, liquor venders, gamblers, horse-thieves, and desperate characters of every description now made it their headquarters. Gambling and crime ran riot. Self-constituted vigilance committees flourished. A short rope and the nearest tree ended many a mad career. When the miners began to return the rage seemed rather to increase than diminish, and it was several years ere order was restored.

ORGANIZATION.

The county was organized Sept. 21, 1848. The first county commissioners were A. H. Perkins, David D. Yearsley, and George D. Coulton, and they held their first session at the house of Hiram Clark in Kanesville—T. Burdick was their clerk; he was also first county judge, elected in 1851; James Sloan was elected district judge, and held his first term in the county, May 5th, 1851. Evan M. Green was Clerk, and Alexander McRea, Sheriff. At this term Orson Hyde was admitted to the bar. Sloan was appointed by the Governor; he was a native of Ireland, and many anecdotes are related of his wit and eccentricity on the bench. He resigned in the course of a year, and was succeeded by Judge Bradford. These officials were all Mormons.

Evan Green was appointed post master at Kanesville, receiving his commission in 1848, but it was sometime before regular mail service was established between it and the nearest post office in Missouri, and four or five years before mails arrived regularly from the east.

The first representative of the county in the State Legislature was Henry Miller. In 1852 Archibald Bryant was elected Representative and Hadley D. Johnson Senator.

THE FIRST GENTILES.

In June, 1848, a store was established on the present site of Council Bluffs, a point then known as Miller's Hollow before it was named Kanesville. The business was opened in the name of Stutsman & McDonald, and was carried on by Mr. Stutsman. Mr. Jonathan B. Stutsman was the first Gentile who settled among the Mormons. He soon after married and remained a prominent resident of the place, becoming one of its leading merchants. His business was carried on for some time in a log building. He subsequently built the first frame store, and also the first frame dwelling house in Council Bluffs. The next Gentile settler was Mr. Cornelius Voorhis, who arrived on the 17th of August, 1848, and opened a small store in partnership with Eddy, Jamison & Co., of St. Louis. The third was Wm. B. Ferguson, of St. Louis, who also engaged in trade.

The various settlements scattered about the county included one a short distance east of Kanesville, on Mosquito Creek, near the seat of Wick's old Indian Mill, where Wm. Garner, Ezra Scofield, Simon Graybill, Alexander Follett and Alexander Marshall remained after the exodus; another on Pigeon Creek, in the northern part of the county; another on the Nishnabotany at a place afterwards called Macedonia, where Peter Haas and Weymeyer built a mill, and another in the northwestern part of the county in and about Lewin's Grove, where the first settlers were Captain Joshua Headlie, Wm. Henderson and John Kritzinger, the latter of whom built a mill.

In the Summer of 1850 Joseph Tootle came up from St. Joseph, Mo., and established the celebrated outfitting house for California emigrants, known as the Elephant Store, and J. A. Jackson became connected with the house in 1851. The trade of the place was also increased in 1850 by the accession of W. D. Turner, S. H. Riddle and J. L. Foreman. Dr. B. Y. Shelly commenced here the practice of medicine the same year, and Dr. S. E. Williams, then a medical student, arrived in the Fall. Dr. P. J. McMahon came in 1851, so also did B. R. Pegram, A. S. Bryant and the Robinson Brothers. The immigration that came in 1852 to take the place of the Mormons was numerous. Early that Spring Mr. Samuel Bayliss purchased of Henry Miller his tract in the valley of Indian Creek. The deed was signed by Orson Hyde, and commenced, "Jesus Christ and the Church of Latter-day Saints sell to Mr. Samuel Bayliss," etc. The title has never been disputed.

PUBLIC LANDS.

The public lands of Pottawattamie County were surveyed during the years 1851-2, and the United States land office was located at Council Bluffs early in the Spring of 1853, with Joseph H. D. Street, Register, and Dr. S. M. Ballard, Receiver. The first entry was made by Joseph D. Lane. The amount of land entered in the month of March, 1853, was 3,810 acres. This was under the preemption law, and actual sales did not take place until the 6th of June. The amount of land taken at this time was small, but sales soon increased. In 1855 speculators came from all parts of the country, and in the Spring of 1856 the demand became almost a mania, caused by the passage of the law making large grants to four proposed lines of railway across the state, and the announcement that in consequence the sales would be closed. The business closed on the last of May, and was not reopened until the Winter of 1858. In 1855 a fever of speculation in city real estate set in, and reached its highest point in 1857.

TOWNSHIP ORGANIZATIONS.

In 1852 the county was divided into three civil townships, Kane, M Rockford. Macedonia comprised the eastern portion of the county, Kan western, and Rockford the northwestern. The latter had been quite exte by Mormons, of whom Hiram Bostwich was the first, in 1846, and rem nently. Here also the first school in the county was taught in 1848. Th settlers were Joseph Hill, Joseph Kirby, Robert McGavern, Samuel B Sherman Goss, who came in 1850-1.

Center Township was detatched from Macedonia and organized June 2 territory assigned to this township had been settled about Big Grove by as early as 1847-8. In July, 1856, Walnut Township was formed, also out of Macedoni Black, Wm. E. Van Riper, William and Frederick Merwherter, Joseph Pierson, and Amos West, were early settlers in this township.

The Township of Crescent was formed on the 2d of March, 1857. Wh mons left this locality in 1852-3, they were succeeded by a number of Indiana, among whom was William A. Reel and sons in 1852. They mill. Other settlers were Edmund Latham, Joseph Boulden, David Elkanah Hall. A prospect of the deflection from Crescent to the Missou proposed railroad line at one time, attracted unusual attention here, and was laid out and grew rapidly in 1856-7. Business sprang up and a p established in 1857. Here Joseph E. Johnson, the editor of the Council started the Oracle early in 1856. Boomer Township was organized January 8, 1858, in the north part This, also, had been settled by the Mormons as early as 1847. Of this Kent, Samuel Bateman, Joseph Wild, John Macklin, Joseph Beardsley McKeon, remained after the exodus, and organized a church of the repudiated Brigham Young. Joseph Hall in 1852, and Z. W. Remington Goodman in 1854, were the first settlers who were not Mormons.

Silver Creek Township was organized September 7, 1858. The early s man named Mace, who located upon Silver Creek in 1850, at a place lon stage station, a man by the name of Shaw who settled on Keg Creek, W bell, James M. Putney, and Thomas Moffatt, who came in 1852.

During the Fall of 1853 and the following Winter, G. M. depot ground at Council Bluffs, and in January following the county voted to subscribe $100,000 toward building the road. This route was never adopted, and no bonds were issued; but General Curtis afterwards became President of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, and continued to take a warm interest in Council Bluffs, where he eventually died.

The Cedar Rapids & Missouri River Railroad was the first, however, to approach the city from the east. The officers of the road visited Council Bluffs in July, 1866, and secured a contribution of thirty thousand dollars and eighty acres of land for depot ground from the citizens. September 14 ground was broken for it in the city, and on the 22d of January following (1871) the first locomotive reached the city, which was the occasion of a grand jubilee. The line was immediately leased by the Chicago & Northwestern Company.

The Summer of 1858 witnessed the inception of the railroad between Council Bluffs and St. Joseph, Missouri, and a survey was made from the former place to the state line by H. C. Nutt, who reported very favorably. Ground was broken for the proposed road in Pottawatamie County, November 7, 1859. On the 8th of December, 1859, the City of Council Bluffs decided to issue its bonds, in the sum of $25,000, in aid of its construction, and the bonds were subsequently issued. The county likewise contributed $40,000 toward the same object from the proceeds of its swamp lands. Work progressed slowly until 1865, when new hands took the contract, to whom both city and county transferred their stock, on condition that the road should be completed by January 1, 1867. The first construction train reached Council Bluffs over this road on the 27th of December, 1866, and on the 17th of December, 1867, the road was completed and ready for business.

December 26, 1867, the first locomotive crossed the Missouri over a temporary bridge, for the use of the Union Pacific road, and late in the Fall of 1868 work commenced on the permanent bridge of the Union Pacific Railroad opposite the city. The completion of this road placed the city on the great trans-continental line of commerce and travel.

Additional railroad communications have since been secured, both to St. Paul and Dakota, by the Sioux City & Pacific and its extensions.

In 1857 the county voted to subscribe three hundred thousand dollars stock to the Mississippi & Missouri River Railroad Company. The company succeeded in getting a hundred thousand dollars of bonds, in payment of stock, issued in January, 1859, but the county judge refused to affix his signature, until public opinion became irresistible. The work was not carried on according to terms, but about $35,000 of the bonds were sold, and resulted in heavy judgments, which the county was compelled to pay; the remainder were finally surrendered to the county. The road was not completed to Council Bluffs until May 12, 1869, when the first train of cars reached the city over it. This is now known as the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad.

PUBLIC BUILDINGS, ETC.

A building called Hyde's New Hall was purchased for the sum of $200, in June, 1852, and used for five or six years for a court house, school house, and various other purposes.

In February, 1856, the contract was let for the erection of a court house to John Hammer and C. Johnson for the sum of $42,000. Bonds of the county were issued to defray the expenses, and work commenced during the Summer, and by Winter the walls of the basement and first story were nearly completed. The work went steadily forward the following year, and late in December, 1867, the county officers were enabled to move into it. It is a fine edifice of two stories and a basement. The basement is constructed of stone, and the superstructure of brick. The style of architecture is composite, size 56x86 feet, and the cost of construction was about $50,000.

On the 18th of February, 1859, the grand jury of the county presented an indictment against John H. Sherman, County Judge, in which he was charged with gross mismanagement of fiscal affairs and illegally issuing county warrants. Pending his trial an investigation was held in which it appeared that within a period of nine months he had issued $33,000 in warrants. He was tried, found guilty, and removed from office in August, 1859. At this time county warrants went as low as twenty-five cents on the dollar. Many school fund securities were found to be worthless, and it was many years before the county was enabled to emerge from the mismanagement of its affairs and recover its pecuniary credit.

The Pottawattamie County Agricultural Society was organized in 1858. Caleb Baldwin, President; W. H. Kinman, Secretary, and held its first fair at Council Bluffs, on the 13th and 14th of October, which was very successful. This institution is now in a very prosperous condition.

NEWSPAPERS.

In 1848, Orson Hyde established at Kanesville a paper entitled the Frontier Guardian, which he continued until 1852. It was primarily devoted to the interests of the Mormon Church, and generally favored the Whigs in politics. When Hyde went to Salt Lake in 1852, he took a part of the office material with him, and the remainder went into the Bugle office.

The Bugle was founded in 1850 as a Democratic paper, by A. W. Babbitt. In 1852, he sold to J. E. Johnson, who continued the publication for about four years, when he also followed his church to Salt Lake. The Bugle was a heavy sufferer in the fire of 1853, and also of the year following. The Bugle printed a daily issue for a while in 1857, but the experiment was abandoned and not resumed until the early part of the war. The Bugle was discontinued after the establishment of the Globe.

The Globe was established in 1870 as a weekly, and as a daily in 1873. Published by the Globe Printing Company, and edited by J. H. Williams.

The Inland Advocate is a religious paper published weekly by Knotts & Davison; Reverend P. F. Breese, editor. It was established in 1872, by Joseph Knotts.

The other newspapers are the Council Bluffs Republican, published weekly by D. H. Honn. The Independent, A. M. Underhill, editor, and the Christian Expositor.

The Avoca Delta is a spicy sheet published at Avoca by J. C. Adams.

The first number of the Council Bluffs Nonpariel appeared in May, 1857. It was a handsomely printed sheet of nine columns to the page, issued weekly. Maynard & Long, proprietors; William W. Maynard, editor. The daily was established in 1861. Mr. Maynard was succeeded by Mr. Burke, in 1862. He was succeeded by Maynard & Chapman, and this firm by Chapman & Walker, this by Chapman, Gray & Mill, this by Gray, Schermerhorn & Mill, which became Schermerhorn & Mill, and afterwards Schermerhorn & Smith. November 1, 1870, it was incorporated as a stock company, with John W. Chapman, President, and M. C. Schermerhorn, Thomas Treynor, and Spencer Smith joint stock-holders with him. It is now the oldest paper in Western Iowa, and operates four steam presses. The daily is published every morning except Mondays, and the weekly every Thursday; Republican in politics. The office was destroyed by fire in 1868, while the property of Chapman & Walker.

A paper called the Chromotype was issued a short time in 1857, but it changed hands and became the Democratic Clarion, which was at length drowned by the Bugle, and departed in 1868. The Council Bluffs Press had a brief lease of life in 1859.

The Council Bluffs Democrat, daily and weekly, made its first appearance May 3, 1868. Alfred S. Kierolf & Co., publishers; but discontinued October 31, following.

CHURCHES.

The first orthodox sermon preached in the county was by Reverend Wm. Rector, of Fremont County. In 1850, Reverend William Simpson, a Methodist clergyman, came into the county in pursuit of horse thieves, and was soon afterwards stationed at Kanesville, his circuit extending over Fremont, Mills and Pottawattamie Counties. Simpson, in one of his sermons, drew upon himself the wrath of Hyde by likening the Mormons to the frogs that "come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet." Hyde pronounced a curse upon him and notified him that his life would be in danger if he remained. Simpson waited upon him and informed him that he would hold him responsible for all harm that might follow, and the curse was withdrawn. In 1853, the first church was erected.

The Presbyterian Church was organized in 1856, and the following year a subscription was raised and the erection of a brick church commenced, which proceeded, however, only as far as the basement walls, when work was suspended until 1865, when the edifice was completed.

St. Paul's Parish of the Episcopal Church was organized in April, 1856, and August 1, 1857, the corner stone of a church edifice was laid, but the work was continued no farther, and soon afterwards a wooden church building was erected on the lot, and has since been occupied by the society.

The Methodist Episcopal Society laid the corner stone of their church edifice, June 14, 1866. It was completed the following year. Standing in a prominent position, a model of architectural beauty and solidity, it became the pride of the city.

The Odd Fellows were the first secret society to organize here, and Council Bluffs Lodge No. 49, began its existence in November, 1853. In July, 1855, a Masonic Lodge was organized and held their first meetings in the Odd Fellows' Hall.

Council Bluffs maintains excellent graded public schools, with costly and substantial school houses. The State Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb, occupies fine buildings and grounds a short distance below the city.

AVOCA.

This is a thriving young town and shipping point on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad, about thirty-eight miles east of the Missouri River, by the line of the railroad. It was laid out in March, 1869, by B. F. Allen and others. The first house was erected by Captain W. F. Dingman, and occupied by him as a hotel. Captain C. V. Gardner and family were among the first settlers. The first sermon in the place was preached by Reverend C. W. Blodgett, a Methodist minister, in the railroad depot building. The first school was taught by B. L. Bunnell.

The town has a handsome location between two branches of the Nishnabotany River about two miles above their junction. There are groves of timber convenient, and a rich and beautiful farming region extends in every direction. It has about 1,500 inhabitants, with the various advantages of a first class town, including mercantile and other business facilities, and good educational and religious privileges. There are few more promising points in Western Iowa.

The business of the town comprises many good stores, and all the principal branches of mercantile trade are represented. The Avoca Bank is a substantial institution controlled by E. W. Davis. Its shipping business is important, and two or more grain elevators are in active operation. It has also a good flouring mill propelled by steam.

The Methodist Episcopal, Congregational, Presbyterian, and Catholics have good churches. A substantial brick school house, well furnished, is one of the ornaments of the place in which its youth are regularly instructed by excellent teachers.

A move was made a short time since to have a new county created out of the eastern part of Pottawattamie with Avoca as the county seat, but from some cause it failed.

WALNUT.

This is a thriving town on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad, about six and a half miles east of Avoca, situated on a beautiful, high rolling prairie. It has a rich, extensive farming region all around it, and for its size does a surprising amount of business. It has several stores, two grain elevators, a steam flouring mill, and a very neat school house. Mr. Hinkley, one of the first settlers, has lately opened a banking office.

NEOLA is a town on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad, eighteen miles from Council Bluffs.

MINDEN is a new town recently laid out on the railroad five miles east of Neola.

WESTON is a station on the railroad in section 36, township 76, range 43, but no town is yet laid out.

The other villages and post offices in the county are, Big Grove, Crescent City, Downsville, Honey Creek, Loveland, Macedonia, Parma, Taylor's Station, Waveland, Wheeler's Grove and Living Spring.

CASS COUNTY.

PHYSICAL FEATURES AND RESOURCES.

Cass is one of the southwestern counties, being the second east of the Missouri River, and the third north of the State of Missouri. It is twenty-four miles square, containing an area of 368,640 acres. The entire county is on the "Missouri Slope," or within the area drained by tributaries of the Missouri River. The numerous streams drain the county completely, and diversify the character and appearance of the surface. On almost every section of land in the county there is living water. The East Nishnabotany, Indian Creek, Turkey Creek and Seven Mile Creek afford good water powers.

The northeast corner of the county is about 920 feet above low water in the Mississippi River at Davenport. The surface is generally undulating prairie, but there is considerable timber along some of the streams; the area of timber land in the county being estimated at about 12,000 acres. It is pretty well distributed throughout the county. The soil partakes of the general character peculiar to that of the Missouri slope in Iowa, and is rich and productive. The valleys along the principal streams are wide and afford some of the finest farming lands in Iowa. The valley of the Nishnabotany is noted for its beauty and fertility, and some of the smaller streams into which it is subdivided in this county retain these characteristics. Almost the entire surface of the county is susceptible of the highest cultivation, and is adapted to all the cereals, grasses, and vegetables common to the latitude. It is also a fine stock-growing and grazing county.

The distribution of water is such that hundreds of locations can be found where both water and timber shelter can be had on the same farm for stock purposes. Kentucky blue grass, as well as other grasses, flourish well in Cass County. No county in the state, perhaps, can present greater inducements for this purpose than the favored County of Cass, which is sufficiently shown by the number of stock farmers already settled there, and the fact that they have all become wealthy, among whom may be mentioned John Hoply, Thomas Meredith, James Baxter, Oliver Mills, and many others. Every year there is an increased interest exhibited both in growing timber and hedges, as will be seen from the late statistics which will be found in this atlas. Osage orange hedging some years ago was thought to be a failure, but new systems and more care have proven it to be a complete success, and when brought into more general use will relieve very much the appearance of the prairies. There can be no question but that fruit growing can be successfully carried on in this county, as is demonstrated by some fine young orchards of apples, pears, cherries, and other small fruits to be seen in different parts of the county. Fruit growing requires more care and experience than the new settlers were disposed to devote to it, which is the reason that it has not had more attention, but as the county has increased in wealth and population it has been taken hold of, and now we have several good nurseries in the county. The county has good roads, and is famous for the number of its substantial bridges. As may be seen from the map of this county it is well supplied with school houses, which are neat and substantial, and are kept open at least three-fourths of the year.

The county has considerable stone suitable for building purposes. The dark brown sandstone quarried on the Nishnabotany River, near the town of Lewis, has been used quite extensively in this and in adjoining counties. Stone suitable for the manufacture of lime is also obtained in several localities. Mineral paint is also found in Edna Township; it is from one to three feet thick, and has been used to considerable extent. No coal beds have yet been discovered, and yet it is quite likely that deep mining may develop them, as the geological formations which are exposed overlie the coal formations.

The county has no public debt, nor has she had any for ten years or more. The rule in Cass is "to pay as they go." The population in 1866, was 2,479; in 1875, as will be seen in table of statistics, 10,552. Spring wheat harvested in 1874, 676,209 bushels; corn, 1,901,062 bushels. We merely cite a few figures to show the rapid and permanent growth of the county.

COUNTY OFFICERS, 1875.

WILLIAM GARDNER, Auditor.	WILKINS WARWICK, Treasurer.
HORACE E. BACON, Clerk.	FRANK AYLESWORTH, Recorder.
JAMES S. PRESSNELL, Sheriff.	E. D. HAWES, Supt. of Public Instruction.

E. E. HERBERT, Chairman Board of Supervisors.

In liberality for the purpose of establishing and maintaining public schools, Cass County is one of the foremost in the state. In 1873, its school houses numbered 81, valued at over $60,000, and during the year previous the county expended in building school houses and maintaining schools upwards of $45,000. This, at a time when its population numbered about 7,000, may be considered a fair sample of its enterprise in this direction. The county has made excellent use of the land set apart for permanent school fund, and thus realized a fund of $47,533.70. With her means for adding to the wealth stored in the mind and all that can be required for the body, who can arrest her progress?

EARLY HISTORY.

During the exodus of the Mormons from Nauvoo in 1845 or 1846, they established a station on the high land west of Nishnabotany River, about two and a half miles west of where the town of Lewis was afterwards located. Not far from this station was the site of an Indian village of the Pottawattamie tribe, which, in all probability, was the reason why the Mormons named it Indiantown. Indiantown continued for several years to be the only place of business in the county, and being on the principal thoroughfare between the Mississippi and Missouri Rivers, quite a large trade was done. As late as 1853 or 1854, Jeremiah Bradshaw kept a store there. The site is now occupied by well cultivated farms. The first permanent settlers were Jeremiah Bradshaw, from Illinois; V. M. Conrad, from New York; Peter Hedges, from Illinois; David Chapman, from Ohio; Joseph Everly (who was killed in some way unknown); J. M. Watson, known in early times as "King James." He was a great hunter, and was often seen riding over the country followed by a pack of hounds, some thirteen in number. He came from La Fayette, Indiana, and was accidentally killed w

In 1853, a few not named came into the county, amongst which were Geor

The first saw mill in the county was built at Iranistan, west of India which water power was used; the second was built on Turkey Creek near Grove City by A. Wakefield; the third (and first steam) was built by M.
Barnett.

The first grist mill was erected at Lewis in 1857, by Keyes, Peck & Co., and is now operated by John Roush. Previous to the building of the Lewis mill had to go with their grists to "South Coon," forty or fifty miles distant. R. D.
hon got his first "grist" ground after locating in Cass County at Rockport, distant one hundred and twenty-five miles, seventy-five miles of that without to cheer the traveler on his way.

Jeremiah Bradshaw was the pioneer merchant, having opened a store at In

The first election was held at Indiantown, in the Fall of 1852, thirteen vo

The first county officers were: County Judge, Jeremiah Bradshaw; Tr
Collector, V. M. Conrad; Clerk, C. C. Woodward; Sheriff, Francis L. Ball;
Commissioner, Levi M. Mills; Surveyor, David Chapman; Coroner, James N.
Assessor, H. L. Bradshaw; Supervisor, T. N. Johnson.

Thomas G. Palmer and Milton Richards were appointed commissioners t the county seat, and on March 11, 1853, located the same at Lewis. Neither

The early business of the county seems to have been transacted at and in th

The soil is a rich black loam, with a sufficient proportion of sand to impart

HAROLD W. KING

BIOGRAPHY

HAROLD W. KING is a prominent representative of the bar in the South Dakota community where he was born and reared, Britton, Marshall County.

Mr. King was born there October 16, 1892. His people were pioneers in Dakota Territory. He is a son of Jay and Elizabeth (Stuart) King and a grandson of Samuel A. King. Samuel A. King and his son in 1881 came to Dakota Territory, moving from their home near Avoca, Iowa. They had gone to Iowa from Ohio. In Dakota Territory they homesteaded six miles south of the present town of Britton. This old homestead has been in the family for nearly half a century. Samuel A. King was one of the first Board of County Commissioners of the county whose territory has since been divided between Day and Marshall. Samuel A. King was of New England ancestry, was a Whig in early days and cast his first Republican vote for Abraham Lincoln. Jay King spent his active life as a farmer and horse trader. He was never active in politics. He belonged to the Masonic fraternity. He died September 5, 1920. His first wife was Nellie Hall, of Kalamazoo, Michigan, who died at the birth of her daughter, Helen. Elizabeth (Stuart) King is still living. She became the mother of five children: Glenn D., who died November 28, 1925; Samuel J., who died September 12, 1920; Harold W.; Frances, wife of M. W. Kerr, of Aberdeen; and Fern A., the wife of Al Slater, of Aberdeen.

Harold W. King's early associations were with a South Dakota farm, and he learned his lessons in rural schools. Afterwards he attended the University of South Dakota, law department, graduating LL. B. in 1914, and tried his first cases at Bridgewater, South Dakota. After two years he moved to White Sulphur Springs, Montana, and was there when America entered the World war.

Mr. King in August, 1917, was enrolled in the Second Officers Training School at San Francisco, and was graduated with a commission as second lieutenant of infantry. However, on account of his athletic prowess and experience, having played football while in college, he was detailed for duty as an athletic instructor, and spent practically all the fifteen months of his service in work of that kind on the Pacific Coast. He also made a record on the rifle range. The last four months of his service he served as Assistant Judge Adjutant. He received his honorable discharge December 18, 1918. Mr. King was one of the organizers and was the first commander of Britton Post No. 80 of the American Legion.

Soon after being released from military duty he returned to Britton and bought the law practice and law library of Byron Abbott, who had died in 1918. For the past ten years he has given his attention to a steadily increasing volume of general law practice. Mr. King served four years as state's attorney of Marshall County and in 1929 served in the state senate, representing Marshall County in the 20th Legislature. He and Buell Jones, who was the Republican candidate for governor of South Dakota in 1928, grew up on adjoining farms in Marshall County. Mr. King is a Scottish Rite Mason and Shriner, being a member of the Shrine at Aberdeen.

He married, July 11, 1921, Miss Lyla Buss, of Saint Paul, Minnesota. They have three children, Charles, born June 19, 1922, Cornelia, born May 24, 1925, and Marjorie, born September 14, 1926.

KING

1. JOHN KING, born near 1600, undoubtedly came with Deputy Governor John Humphrey. (Winthrop's History of New England, 1: 160.) On 2 Sept. 1640, John King and his wife Mary appeared in Boston before Thomas Lechford and employed him to compound their accounts. In his Note-Book Lechford calls them "heretofore servants to the wor^{ll} John Humfrey, Esq^{r}." He further notes that "They were bound to serve foure yeares only . . . to be freed when they came to New England," and that "since his departure" into New England "John King hath served John Humfrey twelve weekes." Winthrop tells us that Mr. Humfrey brought ordnance, muskets, powder and sixteen heifers which were given by Mr. Richard Andrews to the ministers of the plantations. John King in the service of the Deputy Governor undoubtedly assisted him in getting these into New England. Mr. Humphrey came before 3 May, 1631, and land was granted to him at Saugus, 6 Mar. 1632–33. He brought his property and his family to New England in July, 1634. In view of these facts we are justified in the inference that his servants John Legg and John King came with him before 3 May, 1631. (Massachusetts Bay Colony Records, 1: 86.)

On 23 June, 1657, John King of Weymouth deposed before Thomas Danforth in Middlesex County Court in the case of Joshua Tead versus Richard Collicut. He stated that he was "about 57 yeares" of age and "that he was with Mr. Richard Colicut in Kenebeak River . . . " in May, 1656. (The Genealogical Advertiser, 1: 90–95.) This deposition gives his approximate age as born near 1600.

John Humphrey came from Dorchester in the county of Dorset, which is six miles north from Weymouth, and it is likely that John and Mary King came from the same locality. Neither the marriage of John Humphrey nor that of John King is on record in the parish of Holy Trinity in Dorchester.

John King, Sr., was a resident of Weymouth from 1639 to 1669. He early had lands granted to him, although the bounds only remain. He had one of the great lots granted 2 Feb. 1651–52, and John King, seaman, and John King, planter, each had lots in the First Division and in the Second Division granted them 14 Dec. 1663. (Weymouth Land Grants, 281, 282, 283.) He witnessed a deed from Robin Hoode, of Negwasset, an Indian, to John Richards, 22 Apr. 1649, and made oath to the same 22 Aug. 1654. (Suffolk Deeds, 2: 52.)

He with others appears before the General Court in Boston, 4 Dec. 1638, to give evidence about the murderer which "they took from the island." (Records of the Court of Assistants, 2: 77.)

He married Mary ——, who was his wife 2 Sept. 1640. (Lechford's Note-Book, 308.) He married (2), near 1647, widow Dorothy (Barker) Hunt, successively widow of —— Barker and of Enoch Hunt of Weymouth. Dorothie King, wife of John King of Weymouth, seaman, made her will 14 June, 1652, bequeathing to her daughter Sarah Hunt her movables "which were mine before I married with my now husband John King; . . . the care of her I committ to Mr. Thomas Thatcher, Mr. Richard Collicott and John Kingsley of Dorchester." To her daughter Ruth Barker and to her daughter Susannah Heath other things. Her husband John King to be saved harmless from debts. Her son Joseph Barker to be executor, and he to have her right in her servant Thomas Perriman. In case Ephraim Hunt sue her son Joseph as executor for disbursements to herself, the expense to be borne equally. Mr. Thomas Thatcher, Mr. Richard Collicott and her husband to be overseers. Witnesses: William Thompson and Jone Smyth. William Thompson made oath 21 Oct. 1652, and it was proved 17 Nov. 1652. The inventory was taken 18 Oct. 1652. (Register, 5: 239; 8: 60.) She died at Weymouth between 14 June, 18 Oct. 1652. He married (3) at Weymouth, 14 Oct. 1658, Abigail (Hewes) Hatch, widow of William Hatch, Jr., of Scituate, and daughter of John Hewes of Scituate, "the Welchman." He and his wife Abigail were living in Weymouth in 1669, when they gave a deed which is on record at Plymouth. John King, "senior," was chosen selectman of Weymouth in November, 1669. (Town Records.)

He was master of the boat of Thomas Applegate of Weymouth in Oct. 1640, and said boat was overladen at Weymouth with salt (Lechford's Note-Book, 392.) King's Cove and King's Grove in the northwestern part of Weymouth perpetuate the name of this pioneer. He was living in Thomas Jenner's house at Weymouth, 28 Dec. 1649. (Register, 19: 247.)

Children:
2. John, Jr.,^{2} received grants 14 Dec. 1663.

Mary, b. at Weymouth, 15 June, 1639; m. there 30 Nov. 1658, Josiah Chapin of Braintree and Mendon; d. 30 May, 1676.
Abigail, b. at Weymouth, 14 Mar. 1641.
4. Philip, b. at Weymouth, near 1645.

2. JOHN^2 KING, Jr. (John^1), married as early as 1647, Hester (Esther) Bayley, daughter of Thomas Bayley, Sr., of Weymouth. Her father, in his will dated 23 May, 1681, gives unto his daughter Esther, the wife of John King, £20. John King of Weymouth made his will 2 Dec. 1686, and it was probated 29 Apr. 1691. He mentions his wife Esther and what she has received from her father Thomas Bayley, his youngest daughters Patience and Johannah, his son Samuel his children, his son Hezekiah, his son John, his daughter Sarah Bogle, and his daughters Susan and Esther. His wife Esther to be executrix. Mr. Samuel Torrey and Jonas Humphrey, Sr., overseers. Witnesses: Dea. Jonas Humphrey, Richard Phillips and Jonas Humphrey, Jr. His inventory was taken 29 (month missing), 1688 and it refers to his homestead and other lands on "Wester neck", "ye Island," "Grape Island," "y^e great plaine" and "ye second division." His widow Esther made oath to it in court, 25 May, 1691. (Suffolk Probate Records, 8: 40, 205.) He died in 1688, and his widow died at Weymouth, 28 Feb. 1700–01. John King, Jr., of Weymouth, "lighterman," gave a bond to Thomas Dyer of Weymouth, clothworker, 9 Nov. 1664. (Suffolk Deeds, 5: 5.)

She was born there 8 May, 1641, and died, a widow, at Weymouth, 21 Jan. 1717–18. Samuel King of Weymouth "being in old age," made his will 20 Jan. 1710–11, and it was probated 17 Apr. 1712. of John and Ruth Whitman of Weymouth. Philip King of Weymouth, yeoman, and Judith, his wife, sell Remember Briggs land in Weymouth, 1 Mar. 1672–73. They also sell unto Elizabeth Briggs, widow, other land in Weymouth on the same day and give possession by "Turfe and Twigge." (Suffolk Deeds, 8: 210, 211.) Four deeds were acknowledged by these grantors, 21 July, 1673. He was chosen a member of a committee at Weymouth, 27 Nov. 1682, to consider the advisability of building a new meeting house. He soon removed to Taunton. Although several of his children were probably born in Weymouth, their records have not been preserved.

X THOMAS KING married, as early as 1672, Mary Sprague, daughter of William and Millicent (Eames) Sprague of Hingham. She was born at Hingham, 25 Apr. 1652. In his will, dated 19 Oct. 1675, William Sprague bequeaths to his daughter Mary King, the wife of Thomas King. He resided in Weymouth 1670 to 1673. The evidence at hand does not indicate that he is identical with Thomas King of Scituate.

Children, born at Weymouth:
John, b. 29 Aug. 1670.
Mary, b. 12 June, 1673.

HEZEKIAH KING married, before 1686, Mary ——. Hezekiah, the son of John King, Jr., was alive 2 Dec. 1686, and Hezekiah, the son of Samuel King, was alive 20 Jan. 1710–11. He gave a bond in £200 unto His Excellency Sir Edmund Andros, Knight, Captain General and Governour, that Thomas Swift and Elizabeth Thompson of Weymouth, spinster, might contract marriage, 22 Sept. 1687. (Suffolk Court Files, 130004.) He was styled a husbandman of Weymouth.

On 11 Mar. 1705–06, in the division of the estate of John Shaw among his children, his daughter Mary King, widow, and her four sons and daughter are referred to. (Suffolk Probate, N. S., 6: 181.)

Child, born at Weymouth:
Samuel, b. 20 Apr. 1686.

SAMUEL KING, born near 1690, married, before 1708, Sarah ——, the mother of his six children, born at Weymouth between 1707 and 1723.

Children, born at Weymouth:
Samuel, b. 11 May, 1708.
Marcy (or Mary), b. 20 Oct. 1709.
Sarah, b. 11 Mar. 1711–12.
Hezekiah, b. 3 June, 1713. He sold Nicholas Phillips of Weymouth a salt marsh in the northern part of Weymouth, "near Sandy Bank," 13 Mar. 1762. (Suffolk Deeds, 100: 17), and d. in 1765.

Nehemiah, b. 1717.
Ruth, b. 7 Mar. 1722; probably m. 21 Aug. 1736, Nehemiah White of Weymouth.

JOHN KING of Weymouth, yeoman, made his will 13 Jan. 1755, and it was proved at Boston, 6 Feb. 1756. To his wife (not named) he gave his whole estate. To Jonathan Hollis, son of Thomas Hollis, one-half of his real estate at decease of his wife. To Thomas Hollis, son of Thomas Hollis, the other half. To Abiezer Holbrook, Jr., £10 in lieu of indentures to teach him the trade of a cordwainer. His wife and his friend, Thomas Hollis, to be executors. Witnesses: Job Nash, Zachariah Shaw and Eben^r White. Administration to his widow and Thomas Hollis was granted 6 Feb. 1756. (Suffolk Probate Records, 51: 101.)

Martha King of Weymouth, widow, made her will 7 Feb. 1757, bequeathing to Jonathan Hollis and Thomas Hollis, Jr., her estate. Witnesses: Eben^r Clark, Eben^r Hollis and James Clark. Probated at Boston, 4 Mar. 1757, at which time James Clark was absent. Inventory of estate of John King taken at Weymouth, Feb. 1756; total, £262 5*s*. (Suffolk Probate Records, 52: 171, 173.)

He entered his intention at Weymouth, 5 Feb. 1713, with Martha Vinson. They evidently had no surviving children.

Child, born at Weymouth:
Martha, b. 12 Sept. 1716; d. before 1756.

WILLIAM KING, aged 40, Dorothy ——, his wife, aged 34, Mary, his daughter, aged 12, Katheryn, aged 10, Hannah, aged 6, and William, his son, aged 8 years, sailed from Weymouth in Dorset on or near 20 Mar. 1634–35, in Rev. Joseph Hull's Company, and arrived at Dorchester 7 June, 1635. As there is no reference to his name in the Weymouth Land Grants or other Weymouth records it is apparent that he did not settle there. He evidently settled in Salem, and there died shortly before 25 Feb. 1650–51. The settlement of his estate shows that he had a widow, Dorothie Kinge; an eldest son, William; a second son, Samuel, then 18 years of age; a third son John, aged 13, a daughter, Mary, then wife of John Scudder; a second daughter, Katherine, then wife of John Swaysy; a third daughter, Hannah; a fourth daughter Mehitable, aged 15; and a fifth daughter, Deliverance, aged 9. (Records of the Quarterly Courts of Essex County, 1: 206.)

It has been conjectured that he came from Sherborne in Dorset. The baptisms, marriages and burials of all Kings in that parish from 1545 to 1695 were published in Notes and Queries for Somerset and Dorset, 3: 144–146, and they show that one William King married there, 17 Feb. 1616–17, Dorothy Hayne, but no positive proof has been found showing that these were the identical persons who came in Hull's Company. (Notes and Queries for Somerset and Dorset, 8: 358; 11: 87.)

Mehitable, b. 1717.
Ruth, b. 7 Mar. 1722; probably m. 21 Aug. 1755 Nehemiah White of Weymouth.

JOHN KING of Weymouth, yeoman, made his will 13 Jan. 1753, and it was proved at Boston, 6 Feb. 1756. To his wife (not named) he gave his whole estate. To Jonathan Hollis, son of Thomas Hollis, one-half of his real estate at decease of his wife. To Thomas Hollis, son of Thomas Hollis, the other half. To Abiezer Holbrook, Jr., £10 in lieu of indentures to teach him the trade of a cordwainer. His wife and his friend, Thomas Nash, to be executors. Witnesses: Job Nash, Zechariah Shaw and Ebenr White. Administration to his widow and Thomas Hollis was granted 6 Feb. 1756. (Suffolk Probate Records, 51: 105.)

Martha King of Weymouth, widow, made her will 7 Feb. 1757, bequeathing to Jonathan Hollis and Thomas Hollis, jr., her estate. Witnesses: Ebenr Clark, Ebenr Hollis and James Clark. Proved at Boston, 4 Mar. 1757, at which time James Clark was absent. Inventory of estate of John King taken at Weymouth Feb. 1756; total, £362 5s. (Suffolk Probate Records, 52: 171, 174.)

He entered his intention at Weymouth, 5 Feb. 1731, with Martha Vinson. They evidently had no surviving children.

Child, born at Weymouth:
Martin, b. 12 Sept. 1716; d. before 1756.

Dear Ms. Leach,

I do not have any of the specific information you asked for in your NEXUS query, but I think that I can add to your data on John King of Chelsea, Vermont, and his family.

I have enclosed an outline showing that he is a sixth generation descendent of John King of Hartford, Connecticut, and Northampton, Massachusetts. Unfortunately, I have little on him other than his birth data. In fact, the only other information I have on his family are the names and birthdates of some of his brother Oliver Jr.´s children born in Vermont.

I am a descendent of Oliver Sr.´s uncle, Zebulon King, and am compiling a record of all the Kings in this family. I would be very interested in learning what information you have on this family and their descendents, including John´s brothers, Oliver and Horace. I have enclosed an envelope for your convenience.

I hope that the information I´ve given you is of help, and that you get more replies to your query.

Sincerely,

Brian King

December 24, 1990

Dear Ed and Betty,

MERRY CHRISTMAS! May the LORD's Blessings be with you during this most Holy Season!

I apologize for being this long about writing, especially since this is a Christmas letter, and should have been sent early enough so that it could be forwarded to you in time for Christmas. I wanted to include some genealogical information that I found, so it got put off. We hope you had a nice Christmas, and wish you the best of everything in the New Year.

1990 was an eventful and a good year for Stella and I. We finally sold our house in Battlement Mesa/Parachute in early October, and moved to Fort Collins, where we bought a two-bedroom condo.

The condo is much smaller than the house of course, and is a converted apartment, on the ground-floor, and close to the main business street and malls. We enjoy it very much, as there is less house cleaning and no yard work.

It's also nice being on this side of the mountains. We get over to see our daughter in Greeley often, and we have made a couple of quick trips to Aurora.

We've found new doctors. Stella has being referred to two specialists to try to find answers to her problems. Her vasculitis has flared up again. I'm doing fine, will see my specialists in January for regular checkups. As I'm now 65, I'm coping with Medicare.

I hear that you've had some very bad weather at home, (I assume that you're in Massachusetts), and I believe that I heard that a bunch of boats had been swamped at the San Juan Islands. I hope that didn't include yours. Wasn't it sunk last year?

We've been having some pretty cold weather, after a very warm fall that lasted until about two weeks ago. To go from near 70 degrees to 15 below in two weeks is quite a change.

I was just getting started at using the LDS Family History Center at Grand Junction, when we lived in Clifton. Now that we're in Ft. Collins, I'll make a New Years resolution to get started again. The library is only about a quarter mile away.

I went back through some correspondence I received last August, regarding "my" Doolittle's, Luther and Cynthia. A Mrs. G. Ann Roberts of San Antonio, TX had sent me about 135 pages of computer printouts, pedigree charts and family group records, tracing "her" Luther back to Abraham Doolittle. I couldn't connect my Luther to hers, but did pick up a few new names for our family tree which you may or may not have found. She didn't include her sources for these:

JOHN ALLEN-Father of James. He was a blacksmith.

MARGARET COPPIN-Wife of James Allen, mother of Joane Allen/Alling. Margaret was born about 1590 in Kempston, Bedford, England.

ABIGAIL CHARLES- Wife of John Moss.

SARAH ELSON-Wife of a James Ensign, who was possibly the maternal grandfather of Preserved Smith, the great-grandfather of Lydia Doolittle.

ELIZABETH (last name unknown)-William Peck's wife.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION ON VARIOUS PEOPLE:

James Allen-Christened 01 Jan 1581/1587 at Kempston, Bedford, England. Married Margaret Coppin on 11 Feb 1611 at Kempston.

Joane Allen-Christened 12 Oct 1617, Kempston, Bedford, England.

Dear Mrs. Leach:

This is in answer to your request for research on the Studwell and King families of Huron county. I don't think there is as much mystery about this problem as what you have thought. The main problem is a careless use of given names by some of your ancestors and the fact that you took the biography saying "Spring of 1853" as gospel. You see, Spring of 1853 and January of 1852 are pretty close, aren't they? The person who gave that information may been speaking many years after the fact. The handwritten marriage record at the courthouse is probably supposed to be Hannahette, but looks like Harriette or whatever when you look at the writing. So, the January 1852 record you have is the correct one.

The Norwalk Reflector newspaper of 3 Feb 1852 and the Norwalk Experiment newspaper of 10 Feb 1852 report the marriage of Samuel A. King of Townsend township to Miss Hannahette Studwell of Hartland. This took place 29 Jan 1852 at the Mansion House Hotel in Norwalk. So, we have evidence of the marriage of Samuel A. King and Hannahette Studwell.

I did not examine the original Will of william Studwell, but the transcribed copy gives one of his daughters as Henrietta. Apparently this is Hannahette, since she is definitely a daughter of William. do you have a copy of the Will? Enclosed is a copy taken from the Partition Records of Huron County which shows Hannah and Samuel King of Avoca, Iowa, as defendants and owners of 1/6 of the William Studwell land in Hartland.

Also enclosed is a copy of a deed from Rachel and Rebecca Studwell whereby they sold their interests in the farm to Samuel Lockwood as a trustee. The deed is complicated, and probably was some way to pay off some bills without losing the place. You'll see, though, that Hannah King was one of the parties to it.

I believe all of these things definitely link her to William Studwell and establish her parentage. William Studwell bought this land 30 june 1835 for $1,263. He was "of Hartland" when he bought it from Ezra B. and Sophronia Gillett. That's recorded in deed volume 10, page 123. About the same time there was a Joseph Studwell/Steadwell in Fitchville township not far south of Hartland. Perhaps he was a brother to William. I didn't check on him any further.

The Studwells are buried in the Hartland Ridge Cemetery on DeRussey Road about two miles north of the farm. This cemetery is south of Rte. 18 about eight miles southeast of Norwalk. These stones are there: Elizabeth, wife of William, died 15 Sept 1840 age 42; Rachel M., died 7 Sept 1871 age 54 yrs-1 month-2 days; William died 11 August 1843 aged 66 years; and William died 28 April 1862 aged 44 yrs-11 mo-19days. I presume William and Rachel are children of William and Elizabeth.

April 1852 aged 44 yrs-11 mo-19days. I

Well, I ran over a little on that first page. I'm still getting used to this word processor. It's now December 29th and I have time to finish this. I dealt pretty much with Studwell in the first part, and will give you what I have on the Kings....which isn't much.

My big mystery is: where was Samuel A. King in the 1850 census? I am wondering now if he might have gone to California to hunt for gold, and perhaps was there when the census was taken. There were several parties of Hartland and Fitchville men who went at different times. The 1852 marriage notice says he was of Townsend township, but the only King in Townsend in 1850 (as you know) was John G. King, a mason and stonecutter by trade. You don't list a John King as brother to Samuel, and I believe this John G. was from Berlin township of Erie county originally. He spent the rest of his life in Norwalk and area, and his son Rodney became quite a stone artisan. Rodney sculpted two of the monuments which are on the Gettysburg battlefield in Pennsylvania.

There was the John King of Hartland township who married Mrs. Anna Storrs on 17 Nov 1833(Reflector newspaper of 26 Nov 1833). She was the widow of Libbeus Storrs who died 6 Sept 1831 aged 45 in Hartland (Reflector of 12 Sept 1831). I don't know what happened to him by 1850, but Anna died about 1853 and willed all of her property to Mrs. Dorcas Phillips Clawson, who cared for her in her last illness. No family is mentioned in her Will. The land she and Libbeus owned was sold after his death in a Court action by her and the children, but she had a dower right in the land. I'll look at the deeds tomorrow at the Courthouse and see whether John is mentioned anywhere. I do know that the Storrs were buried on the farm and the graves were plowed over years ago. There are no King burials with markers in the Hartland Ridge Cemetery and of course there are no burial records before about 1910.

That's my report for now. We might go to Fort Wayne, Indiana, soon to research at the library and I'll check the California 1850 census to see whether Samuel was there. Perhaps you have access to that census, too, and will want to check it yourself.

I've used the $7.00 you sent plus $3.50 more (½ hour) and $10.00 for the enclosed copies. I hope I've explained everything all right.

Sincerely yours,

Perry R. Timmons

Dear Ed and Betty,

I apologize for not writing sooner, but things have been hectic for the past six weeks.

Stella, my dear wife, passed away suddenly, the 5th of September. As I mentioned in my last letter, she had surgery on Aug. 1st. This seemed to ease the pain she suffered on the left side of her body, but she now suffered pain in her right shoulder, upper arm and neck. Her doctor prescribed pain medicine and we thought it would only take time to get over this pain.

The morning of September 5th, she got up at 8:00 a.m., came out to the living room and sat down for a couple of minutes. She then said she needed to go to the bathroom, and tried to stand up. She didn't have the strength to stand, so I helped her up, and was helping her walk to the bathroom, when her legs folded up and she went down to the floor. I called 911, they came and took her to the hospital. At 9:00, the doctor came out and told me that he couldn't save her. Her heart had just stopped.

I'm still waiting for the autopsy report, so I don't know what caused her heart to give up. She was only 58, but she'd had a hard life in her early years. Besides bearing and raising eight children, she'd had an abusive husband. Also, she had worked at different jobs that required heavy lifting. I think her heart just got tired.

Her children have been very supportive, I really appreciate their help during this time.

Two of my sister's grandchildren have married and one couple has a son, the other couple is expecting in November.

Additions to the Samuel King Descendancy Chart include:

Stella Maria GOMEZ (b 27 Feb 1933 at Trinchera, Las Animas Co., CO, d 05 Sep 1991 at Fort Collins, Larimer Co., CO)

Cary Scott WHEATCROFT (b 15 Nov 1970 at Wenatchee, WA, m Penny LEE on 08 Jun 1991).

Connie Gayle WHEATCROFT (b 05 Mar 1972 at Wenatchee, WA, m Mike ZODIOU (spelling?) on 23 Jun 1990).

Michael Samuel ZODIOU (sp?) (b 02 Jan 1991 to Mike and Connie Zodiou).

Cary Scott (998) and Connie Gayle (999) are children of Sylvia Bertha KINGSLEY (994) and Samuel George WHEATCROFT (997). Stella was identified with number 992 on your descendancy chart.

I am trying to continue my genealogy work, primarily on Stella's family tree. Besides reading church baptism and marriage records at the Family History Center, I've also started working on the Personal Ancestor File program for her family; using their computer. I still hope to be able to get an IBM compatible one of these days.

I'm doing well physically, although I got a scare a month ago, when a PSA (Prostatic Specific Antigen) test came back high. They tripled my eulexin medicine and ordered a bone scan. The scan came back good, so today I had blood drawn for another PSA test. Hopefully, things will get back to normal.

And I hope this finds you both well. I hope you are recovering successfully from your surgery, Ed.

God be with you, both.

Yours sincerely,

Ted

Dear Ed and Betty,

Merry Christmas and Happy New Year. My best to you both.

Thank you for your card and expression of sympathy. I sincere-appreciated it.

It gets quite lonesome, but things like relearning to cook and clean house and to do housework in general keep me occupied. Of course, there's Lady Muffie of Rosewood (our poodle) to keep me company. It's true, a man doesn't always realize how much his wife does, keeping a home for him, even when he's trying to help all he can.

The kids have been very good about calling and visiting. I've been going down to Aurora about every three or four weeks, staying with different ones of the family. They've made it a point that I'm included in family activities and holiday dinners.

I'm enclosing a xerox of the Doolittle Coat of Arms which I got from the Doolittles of America family society. I tried to color it, with marking pens, although the green portions copied so dark that the green doesn't show well. The portions left uncolored are silver in color. I understand that other people have published a different design as the Doolittle Arms, which this society considers wrong.

In my letter of 17 Oct 1991, I gave you some additions to the Samuel King Descendancy chart. I have a correction and an addition to this information:

add Chase Scott WHEATCROFT (b 16 Nov 1991 to Cary and Penney WHEATCROFT)

cor Connie Gayle WHEATCROFT (b 05 Mar 1972 at Wenatchee, WA) m Mike ZODROW on 23 Jun 1990. [I had spelled ZODROW as Zodiou.]

cor Michael Samuel ZODROW (b 02 Jan 1991 to Mike and Connie ZODROW).

And there should be another addition next spring. Carol and Terry Sprouse (my brother Rudolph's son) are expecting. Terry is in the USAF, they're stationed in Guam.

Every time I hear about bad weather in the Seattle area, I think of you folks. Did you suffer a lot of damage in the storm that hit a month or so ago?

Again, have a Happy Holiday Season, and every good thing to you in the coming New Year. God bless and keep you.

~~Sincerely~~ Sincerely
Ted

Dear Mr. Stedwell

Thank you for your letter. When I saw your Connecticut return address, I knew it was good news.

I believe that we can connect Edward Leach's great Grandmother, Hannah Stedwell King, to William Stedwell, Sr.

Enclosed is a letter from Mr. Timman dated the 26th, December 1988. He tries to clear up the question of Hannah's name. We know from legal papers that Hannah King is William's daughter. In William, Seniors, will, Mr. Timman said that a daughter, Henrietta, was mentioned. In newspaper accounts of her marriage to Samuel Ashley King, she is shown as Hannahette.

Mr. Timman will be sending me a copy of William, Sr's will. He sent me a copy of William, Jr's will, and I will send you a copy of parts of it.

It does appear that Hannah altered her given name to Hannah E. Stedwell. I hope the enclosed letters and documents will clarify the relationship.

The IGI files show her name as Harriette and Henerett in two separate entries.

I would greatly appreciate data on the Stedwells. In fact, we are very anxious to hear from you again.

Sincerely,

Betty Leach

Enclosures.

We feel that possibly the original marriage entry was misread. N's + R's could be confused. I have asked Mr. Lerminar to send me a copy of the original entry if it's possible to copy it.

Most of the data on Hannah Studwell King and Samuel Ashley King's children has been accumulated from secondary sources. I have highlighted the data that has been gathered from either vital records or from an on-site visit to the Britton Cemetery located approximately 1-2 miles west of Britton, Marshall Co., SD.

Four of their six children, Elizabeth, the youngest daughter and my husband's grandmother, Mary King Kann, William H. and Jay King are all buried in Britton. Alpa King Sprouse is buried in Atlantic, Iowa; and we have no information on the demise of Horace George King.
